100 R.A.F. BOMBS DISLODGE REBELS FROM OMAN POST

Combined Ground Forces of British, Sultan's Men Stalled by Unexpectedly Strong Resistance.

TROOPS REGROUP FOR NEW ATTACK

English Officers Apparently Underestimated Ability of Insurgents to Use Automatic Weapons.

MANAMA, Bahrain, Aug. 10 (AP)—British Royal Air Force bombers today hit rebel strongpoints in Oman with more than 100 20-pound fragmentation bombs. Warriors of the rebellious Imam of Oman were driven from their well-prepared positions near Firq, a ground control officer reported.

The combined ground force of British troops and supporters of the Sultan of Muscat and Oman was stalled yesterday by unexpectedly stout resistance at Firq.

Air Vice Marshal Laurence Sinclair, who announced the air raid, said an attack on Firq was being prepared.

Followed by Rocket Attack.

Today's bombing started at dawn and was followed by rocket attacks by jet fighters.

The ground force commander, Brig. J. A. R. Robertson, flew to British Persian Gulf headquarters here to request the all-out air assault. A spokesman said "there is no political bar to using whatever force is necessary to overcome this opposition."

When the British first went to the aid of Sultan Said bin Taimur in the four-week-old rebellion, they sought to avoid killing rebels by air attacks. Yesterday a member of the ground party was reported killed at Firq.

Sam Pope Brewer, New York Times correspondent representing the combined American press with the ground party, reported it withdrew from Firq under fire to nearby Kersha to regroup for attack.

Another Column on Move.

Firq lies a few miles from Nizwa, which is believed to be the Imam's headquarters. Brewer said the Imam's brother, Taleb ben Ali, reportedly has 200 well-trained men at Firq.

A column of Muscat forces was reported to be about 30 miles northeast of Kersha, closing in on Nizwa from the opposite side.

The column was reported yesterday by an Omani source to have accepted the surrender of Izki but it was learned today that the report was premature. The column under British officers now is reported at Riza, where it ran into opposition before reaching Izki.

British military commanders underestimated the rebel's ability to use modern automatic weapons efficiently, an official spokesman here said. Unexpectedly accurate firing was reported and an undisclosed number of casualties was suffered by the Muscat column.

The spokesman emphasized that ground and air commanders have complete freedom to adopt whatever methods they choose to end the campaign speedily, although it is not ex-

MORSE ADVISES VETO OF RIGHTS BILL, CALL FOR EXTRA SESSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP) SENATOR Wayne Morse (Dem.), Oregon, who voted against the civil rights bill when it passed the Senate, advised President Eisenhower yesterday to veto it if he gets the chance and call Congress back in the fall to rewrite it.

In a Senate speech, Morse pointed to language in the bill which apparently would allow the jailing of newspaper men who reported, without permission, testimony taken in closed session by a proposed civil rights investigating commission.

Morse said this illustrated why the bill should have been sent to a Senate committee for consideration. He also said he had grave doubts about the legal consequences of other parts of the bill.

Morse advocates strong civil rights legislation but has been a critic of the current bill.

HAROLD GIBBONS DENIES ANY LINK WITH JOHNNY DIO

Has Nothing in Common With Racketeer or His Activities, St. Louisan Says.

Harold J. Gibbons, Teamsters Union leader here, said today he had spoken to John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, labor racketeer, at labor gatherings throughout the country but, except for one occasion three or four years ago, had had no other dealings with him.

However, Gibbons said he would confer today with his aids and have union records checked to determine if he may have had any contacts with Dio which the St. Louisan had forgotten. This check included an examination of correspondence and telephone call records.

Gibbons's eyes flashed in anger as he discussed an attempt by the labor rackets investigating committee of the United States Senate to link him with Dio through a tape recording of a conversation between Dio and another man.

"Just because my name was mentioned doesn't mean I had any connection with Dio," Gibbons said, heatedly. "Dio may have been name-dropping. This information is put out before I have a chance to answer.

"I have no recollection of having any conversation with Johnny Dio on the matter which he brought up in the recorded talk."

Saw Him in Labor Sessions.

Gibbons said he has seen Dio at various labor meetings, including ones in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago and St. Louis. He thought his last meeting with Dio was in a hotel lobby in Chicago about two years ago.

"In my work, I have to go to all parts of the country," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter. "Johnny Dio also goes to labor meetings. Sometimes we bump into one another. That's all there is to it.

"I have nothing in common with him, his activities or anything else. Dio was never a part of my life. My whole record is clear. I don't approve of racketeering or hoodlumism in the labor movement."

Gibbons said that three members of the Senate Labor Rackets Investigating Committee and its counsel, Robert F. Ken-

JOHNSON SAYS ALCORN SEEKS TO KILL CIVIL RIGHTS MEASURE

Criticizes 'Backroom Politicians' — New Compromise on Jury Trials Is Pushed by Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas told the Senate today "backroom politicians" are trying to kill the civil rights bill rather than accept the Senate's version.

Johnson said Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn "openly boasts that he is on the telephone laying down the line to the elected representatives of the people." Johnson said this was part of an effort to "kill the bill."

Alcorn said in a statement yesterday he had conferred with House G.O.P. Leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts by phone and they were "in complete agreement that the bill must be strengthened in every way possible before final passage."

Knowland Defends Alcorn.

Republican Senate leader William F. Knowland of California said there were plenty of precedents for Alcorn's communicating with members of Congress. He said Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler had written members about the Hell's Canyon dam and atomic legislation last year.

But Knowland told the Senate he agreed with Johnson that Congress can get along without the advice of the national committees in working out legislation.

Johnson told his colleagues he doesn't think any "effective civil rights bill can be approved in an atmosphere of partisan politics."

"Legislators working together conscientiously can come to an agreement upon the merits," he said, "but when the backroom politicians move into the picture, there can be nothing but chaos."

By the United Press.

Meanwhile House Democratic leaders started a campaign today to sell their Republican counterparts on a new compromise jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill.

They took advantage of a long weekend recess to try to break down G.O.P. resistance to the Democratic plan for quick House action on the Sente's version of the controversial civil rights measure.

There were some faint signs the Republicans might give in.

The Democratic strategy, as pronounced by Speaker Sam Rayburn, is to seek a change only in the jury trial provision to meet Administration objections.

G.O.P. Public Stand.

For the record, key G.O.P. figures still insisted the Senate-passed bill be sent to a Senate-House conference committee to change the Senate version so it would more nearly approach the broader bill originally approved by the House.

But some hinted privately they might be willing to go along with the Democratic plan.

Democrats need G.O.P. help to get the bill out of the House Rules Committee, headed by Representative Howard W. Smith (Dem.), Virginia, a staunch foe of any civil rights measure.

The compromise amendment would limit jury trials to federal criminal contempt cases to punish violations of government sought court orders to prevent voting rights denials.

The Senate-passed amendment provides for jury trials in criminal contempt cases for violations of federal court orders in a variety of fields.

Deputy Attorney General William P. Rogers said this would "make it much more difficult" to enforce federal laws in a number of fields "vital to the public interest."

He also contended in a letter

Prince Philip Reported 'Spoiling For a Row' With Palace Advisers

LONDON, Aug. 10 (UP) — Prince Philip was reported today "spoiling for a row" with Buckingham Palace advisers over his friendship with a former courtier who is divorced.

Navy Comdr. Michael Parker, who lost his job last February as Philip's secretary when he divorced his wife, is spending the week with Philip and Prince Charles at Cowes.

The Daily Herald said there was a big fight at the palace recently over Philip's friendship for Parker and that Philip insisted he "intends to choose his own friends."

The newspaper said Philip answered the palace criticism by inviting Parker to Cowes, "having many a pint with him."

Other London newspapers today criticized Philip for taking 8-year-old Prince Charles out in yacht in strong winds and for letting Charles's 15-year-old cousin drive a car.

Charles, heir to the throne, narrowly missed a ducking in the harbor at Cowes when Prince Philip's yacht heeled over dangerously. With the yacht filling with water, Philip hailed a passing barge and transferred the boy to safety.

The London News Chronicle took the royal household to task for the incident.

"Fathers," it asked, "would you take your 8-year-old son sailing in strong winds? What would you say about it, mothers?"

Charles is vacationing with his father and his cousin, Prince Michael of Kent, at Cowes. Michael was spotted yesterday driving an automobile. The legal age for holding a driver's license in Britain is 17.

Witnesses said Michael made two trips through town, each covering about three-quarters of a mile. A policeman held back the crowd outside the house while another waved the car on.

Cowes Police Superintendent P. Paddon said he received no report on any under-age drivers. "If we do recognize Prince Michael driving, we shall have to take some steps." he added.

ARMY TO TEST IRRADIATED FOOD IN DAILY MEALS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The first large scale test of irradiated food as a part of regular meals will be held this fall or winter by the Army at Fort Lee, Va., the Quartermaster's office announced today.

The experiment is designed to get soldier's reaction to the flavor, test and texture of the food.

The test, involving about 300 volunteers and lasting about a month, will be the Army's latest move in trying to demonstrate the feasibility of using such foods as a regular part of the diet of the armed forces.

Maj. Gen. Alfred B. Denniston, deputy Quartermaster General, has said that preservation of foods by irradiation "holds promise for lessening refrigeration requirements for rations for troops and for improving the variety of foods which can be offered to fast-moving, very mobile fighting men."

NEUBERGER GIVES PRAISE TO WILSON CANDOR, COURAGE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—Retiring Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has been paid warm tribute by a frequent severe critic of the Eisenhower Administration.

Senator Richard L. Neuberger (Dem.), Oregon, told the Senate yesterday that the Eisenhower cabinet has been "lacking in candor and courage" but "courage and bluntness have been traits of at least one member. That man has been Secretary Wilson."

In "a town where evasiveness, double talk, straddling and the quick shift often pay off," Wilson has "never been such an official," Neuberger said.

He said Wilson "has not hesitated to offend powerful groups politically. He has not hesitated to speak his mind to congressional committees, when those committees occasionally consisted of men who were not above bullying or browbeating a witness."

Neuberger also praised Wilson's "charming wife, who was not afraid to place loyalty and love of her husband above fealty to the President, and who spoke up in defense of her mate."

SENATE OK'S CURB ON EISENHOWER'S A-FUEL POWERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Senate approved by voice vote last night a bill placing a tight restriction on the President's authority to hand nuclear fuels over to the new international atomic energy agency.

Each future transfer would have to have the specific approval of Congress, with some exceptions. The restrictions—rejected Thursday by the House on a 298 to 99 vote—was written into a bill spelling out details of American participation in the world agency, created to promote President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace proposal.

The exceptions were:

No congressional action would be necessary on the transfer of 5000 kilograms of U-235 already promised by the President to the agency, or on amounts made available under his pledge that this country will match amounts offered by any other country between now and mid-1960.

This country would be permitted to give up to $10,000 worth of materials to one country or $50,000 worth to a group of countries in one year. This would be pretty much limited to quantities useful in research programs.

ATOM TEST DELAYED AGAIN

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., Aug. 10 (AP)—The thirteenth 24-hour postponement of an atomic test explosion was ordered last night because of unsatisfactory wind conditions.

Detonation of a nuclear device from atop a 500-foot tower had been scheduled for this morning.

FREEING ALLEGED SPY TO GUARD FBI FILES DISCUSSED

'Purely Hypothetical,' Says Spokesman After Newspaper Raises Question.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—A Justice Department spokesman said today it is "purely hypothetical" to speculate that the Government may be forced to drop spy charges against Russian Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Abel.

He made the comment in response to questions about a report published by a New York newspaper that the Government would drop charges against Abel rather than open up Federal Bureau of Investigation files.

The Supreme Court ruled in June that the defense in a criminal case is entitled to see certain FBI files, hitherto kept secret, in order to prepare its case.

The Justice Department spokesman said it is "just speculation—purely hypothetical at this point" to say that the Government will not prosecute Abel because of that court ruling.

Abel was indicted by a Brooklyn (N.Y.) grand jury on Wednesday on charges of spying on this country for Russia. Flown back from Texas, where he was awaiting deportation as an illegal alien, he was arraigned in federal district court in Brookln yesterday.

At the arraignment, Assistant United States Attorney General William F. Tompkins said that while posing as a Brooklyn artist Abel actually headed "a most elaborate and intricate espionage ring."

"He was skillfully trained in the practice of espionage," Tompkins added, "skillfully trained in the art of avoiding detection and skilled in the use of aliases."

District Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo entered a technical plea of innocent for Abel. He gave him until next Tuesday to get a lawyer and held him without bail after the Government expressed fear he might flee if freed on bond. The Russian faces a possible death sentence if convicted.

Abel apparently has been deserted by his government, which has been quick in the past to spring to the aid of Soviet nationals arrested in this country.

"Has any representative of the Russian embassy been in touch with you," reporters asked.

U.S. PERSONNEL BARRED FROM JAPANESE BEACH

TOKYO, Aug. 10 (AP)—American military personnel and their families were barred this weekend from a Japanese beach resort where anti-nuclear bomb demonstrations are scheduled.

United States military authorities ordered the bar in co-operation with Japanese officials. An Army statement said, "no specific reason was given for the action taken other than as part of United States Forces Japan's program of maximum co-operation with local officials and to avoid embarrassing incidents."

The statement noted without comment that Japanese labor unions plan the demonstrations on the big Kamakura beach to publicize the anti-nuclear weapon convention now under way in Tokyo.

Little Quemoy Bombarded.

TAIPEI, Formosa, Aug. 10 (UP)—Communist Chinese artillery on Amoy bombarded the Nationalist-held offshore island of Little Quemoy with 30 rounds late last night, the Defense Ministry said today.

SENATE VOTES TO LET TVA ISSUE $750,000,000 IN REVENUE BONDS

Authority Would Use Funds for Expansion of Power Facilities—Measure is Sent to House.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Senate last night approved, 61 to 20, and sent to the House a bill to permit the Tennessee Valley Authority to issue $750,000,000 in revenue bonds to expand its power facilities.

The bill is designed to break the deadlock over TVA financing which has seen Congress consistently refuse to vote new appropriations for steam plants in recent years.

At the same time, members of Congress from the TVA area say the agency will be unable to meet power needs of its service area by the winter of 1959-60 without additional steam plants.

The money which would be raised by the bond issues could be used to build steam plants and other projects.

President Eisenhower recommended that some form of self-financing plan be set up for TVA, but the bill passed by the Senate did not meet Administration specifications in some respects.

First Bonds in 20 Years.

The TVA in the past has built its plants largely with appropriations, although power sales have furnished some revenues for construction. The authority contained in the bill is the first it would have in more than 20 years to issue bonds.

The bill survived an effort to kill it entirely for this session. A plan to send it back to the Public Works Committee was beaten 63 to 22.

Sponsors of the legislation also turned back an Administration amendment offered by Senator Everett Saltonstall (Rep.), Massachusetts, which they considered the most crippling of any one presented. The amendment would have put TVA under the Federal Corporations Act, making it subject to tight Budget Bureau and Treasury control.

The most important floor change requires TVA to pay to the Treasury at least $10,000,000 annually to reduce the appropriations investment in the agency. The $10,000,000 would be in addition to payments of about $28,000,000 annually already required by the bill.

This amendment, offered by Senator Francis Case (Rep.), South Dakota, was adopted 76 to 6 after some of the bill's sponsors had said they would agree to it with misgivings. They expressed the fear it would mean too heavy a financial burden on the authority.

The original bill even without the Case amendment would have required a bigger average annual payment to the Treasury than TVA now makes. This averages roughly $25,000,000 a year based on a 40-year amortization of the appropriations investment.

Government Investment.

The net appropriations investment of the Government in TVA was $1,127,000,000 a year ago, but it is expected to be down close to a billion by the time the bill becomes operative.

The revenue bonds to be issued under the bill would not be general obligations of the United States or TVA. They would be secured by the facilities to be built with the proceeds of these securities.

TVA is directed in the bill to notify Congress 90 days before any new power project is to be started. Congress by a concurrent resolution, which does not need presidential signature, can veto any project.

The bill also directs the authority to co-ordinate its financing plans with the Treasury. If there is a dispute over terms, TVA must delay 30 days before going ahead with a sale of bonds.

The Senate adopted by voice vote an amendment of Senator Norris Cotton (Rep.), New Hampshire, designed to make sure there could be no resale of TVA power outside of its service area by distributors who might get it within the area.

DULLES REJECTS ANOTHER SOVIET BID TO BAR TESTS

U.S. Will Never Stop Trials Without Halt in Production, He Told Zorin in London.

QUESTION RAISED IN PRIVATE TALKS

He Also Informed Russian Bonn Rearmament Is Protection Against German Militarism Resurgence.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has sent word to the Kremlin that the United States will never agree to stop testing atomic weapons without a simultaneous agreement to stop making them.

American officials hope this reply to a Soviet inquiry will finally convince Soviet leaders that they have no prospect of winning American, or Western, acceptance of their test-suspension plan. Russia wants to call off tests for two or three years apart from any other step in disarmament.

Dulles gave his emphatic rejoinder on United States atomic test policy to Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin in London on Wednesday of last week. They talked privately at a luncheon. Zorin is Russia's top disarmament negotiator.

Zorin Raises Two Points.

In the course of a private conversation he raised two principal topics with Dulles, according to information which subsequently became available in Washington. One of these was the standard issue of German re-armament. Zorin asked whether the United States was not concerned about the military re-armament of Germany as, he said, Russia is.

Dulles gave the established American reply on this question—that the United States is not concerned because the best protection for the world against a resurgence of German militarism is the integration of Germany's forces with those of other countries as in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Zorin then bluntly asked the Secretary whether the United States made a firm link between suspension of atomic tests and a cutoff in the manufacture of atomic weapons. Dulles gained the impression that he raised this question under instructions from Moscow and that there was likely to be more than ordinary interest in his reply.

Dulles's Explanation.

He told Zorin there was a link between testing and a weapons cutoff. He declared that the United States must continue to test weapons unless a suspension can be worked out as part of an over-all scheme to reduce the risk of war.

If it is not possible to take measures which would make war less likely, Dulles asserted, then it is better to go ahead with the development of nuclear weapons of such precision that they can be used against military targets. That includes testing. It is built on the assumption that if there is another war of whatever size nuclear weapons will be used.

The Soviets have made a major issue in their policy and in their propaganda of getting atomic weapons tests called off. At London they proposed a suspension of two or three years. Most officials here believe they are playing this line primarily because it has had broad mass appeal.

PILOT OF CRIPPLED C-97 HAS ENGINE TROUBLE AGAIN

No Passengers This Time—He Had Nursed Plane 1000 Miles Thursday.

HONOLULU, Aug. 10 (AP)—Maj. Samuel Tyson, the Air Force pilot who nursed a crippled air transport for 1000 miles to a safe landing Thursday with 67 persons aboard, ran into more engine trouble yesterday.

Tyson, in another C-97, was en route to Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco when engine trouble forced the plane to return to Hickam field. An Air Force spokesman said the plane had carburetor trouble which was quickly fixed.

Tyson took off again a short time later.

MEMORIAL HELD ON FORMOSA FOR VICTIMS OF CHINESE REDS

TAIPEI, Formosa, Aug. 10 (AP)—Memorial services were held on Formosa today for the millions of people said to have been killed by the Chinese Communists since they overran China in 1949. Chinese Nationalists put the number of those killed at 19,278,000.

Today marked the annual Ghost Festival, which falls on the 15th day of the seventh moon on the Chinese lunar calendar. The occasion is supposed to witness the yearly visit of the spirits of the dead to relatives on earth.

HOUSE DEMOCRATS PLAN TO CONSIDER INCOME TAX CUTS AT NEXT SESSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP) HOUSE Democrats agreed yesterday to consider income tax cuts at the next session of Congress starting in January.

The decision was reached at a conference of Speaker Rayburn of Texas and Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee which handiles tax legislation. The action was interpreted to mean that Democrats are determined to have standby tax reduction legislation on the shelf ready for enactment when the budget permits general tax relief.

Representative Jere Cooper (Dem.), Tennessee, Ways and Means Committee chairman, said only that the committee would begin hearings on general tax revision in January after Congress returns.

He requested that all individuals and organizations wishing to testify nofity the committee by Dec. 2.

INTRUDER STABS MAN AWAKENED BY FIRE IN BED

Resident Attacked in Home When Hurrying to Put Water on Smoldering Mattress.

Robert Luttman was stabbed in the abdomen by an intruder he encountered in the kitchen of his home, 1212 Hamilton avenue, as he was hurrying to get water to extinguish a mattress fire early today.

Luttman, 42 years old, told police he had fallen asleep when smoking in his room in the third-floor apartment, causing the mattress to smolder. The smoke awakened him. Then he discovered and grappled with the intruder, who had gained entrance by cutting through a screen door.

The man drew a pocket knife and stabbed Luttman, then fled out the kitchen door.

Luttman, an ambulance driver, was taken to Homer G. Phillips Hospital, where his condition was reported as serious. The fire went out after burning a small hole in the mattress.

Police were searching for the man, a Negro.

A restaurant at 1103 Park avenue was robbed early today by a man who forced Miss Amy Garner, a waitress, to turn over $43 from a cash register and also took $23 from a customer, Wilbert Puckett, 1466 Hickory lane.

The robber, who had a towel wrapped around his hand as if holding a weapon, fled on foot.

Fred Lucas, 4231 Washington boulevard, was robbed of $17 as he sat on the front porch of his home early today by a young man who held his hand over Lucas's mouth and took a billfold from the victim's pocket.

James Dozier, proprietor of the Ritz Hotel, 4049 Washington, was robbed of $65 early today by a man who entered the hotel office holding his hand in his pocket. The robber, whom Dozier said he recognized, was being sought by police.

BRITAIN DEFENDS REFUSAL TO IMPORT SALK VACCINE

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP) — Britain last night defended its refusal to import Salk anti-polio vaccine. The government said it could not be done in time to halt the serious increase in British poliomyelitis cases.

Safety tests like those applied to British vaccine would take about three months, a Ministry of Health statement said. Two months are needed for vaccination to take effect, it added.

The ministry said vaccination was not generally regarded as a suitable emergency method of checking a local polio outbreak. It said the British vaccine was "superior in safety and effectiveness" to the American product.

Since January, 2366 polio cases have been reported in Britain, including 1412 of the paralytic type. Worst hit city is Coventry, with at least 87 cases.

Dulles Turns Hitch-Hiker---On Orders From White House

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Aug. 10 (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, one of the world's most traveled men, turned hitchhiker yesterday.

Dulles told newsmen at nearby Camp Drum he did it on orders from the White House.

The Secretary said he, President Eisenhower and Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks were conferring at the White House when the Chief Executive discovered both his aids were heading north.

Weeks was flying to Camp Drum, where today he reviewed his home state Massachusetts National Guardsmen. Dulles and his wife were heading for their Duck Island retreat on Lake Ontario.

The President told Dulles to hitch a ride in Weeks's plane. As the Secretary bundled aboard another plane at Camp Drum to ferry him the rest of the way, he laughed and said, "I was ordered to" hitch the ride.

SENATORS WANT TO ASK DORIA IF HE BROUGHT DIO INTO HIS UNION

Ousted Labor Official Scheduled to Be Chief Witness Monday in Rackets Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—A Senate rackets investigator said today an ousted union official will be asked next week whether he got New York hoodlum John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi into the labor movement.

Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the Senate Rackets Committee's main witness Monday will be Anthony J. Doria, who resigned under fire last year as secretary-treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers, a catch-all union formerly the AFL United Auto Workers.

Kennedy said the committee also wants to know why Doria got a $50,000 going-away present when he left the union in February, 1956. Outgoing union president Earl Heaton testified yesterday that Doria got $25,000 cash and promissory notes for the rest. He said Doria is suing to collect the notes.

A special convention of the union in St. Louis, called to comply with AFL-CIO orders for a housecleaning, decided Thursday to try to recover the $25,000 cash from Doria.

New York Operations.

The committee will also question Doria about his handling of Dio after the racketeer became boss of the UAW-AFL New York operations. The committee has charged that Dio muscled into control of UAW-AFL Local 102, the union's first New York unit, in 1951-52.

Former union president Lester Washburn has named Doria as the man who issued a new charter for the local, making Dio an official.

From that start Dio rose rapidly to become New York regional director of the union and got charters for a string of locals. The committee says the locals were staffed with Dio henchmen and operated a thriving racket of extortion and contracts which exploited low-paid Negro and Puerto Rican workers.

Doria Says He Will Answer.

By the Associated Press.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, said he also intends to ask Doria about testimony that the AIW agreed to buy him a big automobile in return for his resignation.

Doria has sent word he intends to answer any questions the committee asks. Two days ago Dio invoked the Fifth Amendment 140 times in refusing to answer committee questions, which included some about his alleged relationship with Doria.

The committee is exploring particularly for evidence McClellan says will show that Dio and James R. Hoffa, Midwest Teamsters Union boss, entered into a corrupt alliance. McClellan says Hoffa hoped to use this alleged tie-up to gain new labor power and that Dio sought to fatten his income through racketeering.

Union Real Estate Deal.

Morris Weintraub, South Newport (Ky.) lawyer who served on the UAW-AFL executive board from 1951 until July 1956, named Doria in connection with a deal in union real estate which Weintraub said brought a quick $35,000 profit to others.

Weintraub said the Badger Realty Co. of Milwaukee in 1955 bought the union headquarters building in that city for $80,000 and resold it a few weeks later for $115,000. He said that so far as he knows the union actually collected only $50,000 of the agreed $80,000 sale price. Weintraub said Doria formerly was a partner in the Badger company.

Weintraub also charged that Doria, using "goons from the New York Bowery," stacked the union's 1955 convention with Dio-picked delegates and blocked efforts to fire officials who took orders from Dio.

pected they will use napalm bombs of flaming gasoline or pattern bombing on rebel strongpoints.

Elsewhere in the Middle East, confirmation of the British charge that Russian arms and advisers have been pouring into the southeast Arabian kingdom of Yemen came from European travelers reaching Cairo.

Yemen's undemarcated border with the British East Aden protectorate has been the scene recently of sporadic fighting. The little Red Sea kingdom claims frontier areas of Aden that Britain considers vital hinterland for the port of Aden, guardian to the Red Sea approach to the Suez canal.

47 Russian Technicians.

Informants said at least 47 Russian technicians are now in Yemen, more than half of them at the seaport of Salif where Soviet arms have been unloaded by at least seven ships since the beginning of the year.

Salif lies within telescope distance of the British-controlled Kamaran islands, accounting for detailed British accounting of Russian arms unloaded there. A foreign Office spokesman in London yesterday said outmoded tanks and planes, plus armored troop carriers, artillery and small arms, have been landed.

British officials foresaw increased skirmishing but no serious trouble on the frontier. The area is comparable in wild ruggedness with the Omani mountains 1100 miles east northeast at another corner of the trackless Arabian peninsula.

Meanwhile, sources in Cairo said Yemen's King, Imam Ahmed, is critically ill and may die within a few days. The King has been in ill health, reportedly suffering from heart trouble. He is 64 years old.

Legation Denies Report.

The Yemen legation in Cairo issued a denial, saying reports of the ruler's illness were "completely unfounded." Ahmed, the legation said, had been ill last month but had recovered.

The informants who said the Imam was near death insisted on the accuracy of their report, however, and suggested the legation was playing down the illness because of the delicate problem of a succession in case of the death of Ahmed.

His hear apparent is Crown Prince Mohammed el Badr, who is believed to have negotiated the arms deal with Moscow. But Yemen has a history of violent feuds and bloody fights for control, so persons in Cairo familiar with the isolated country said a crisis rather than a peaceful succession might follow the King's death.

ARABS TO PRESENT OMAN CASE TO U.N.

CAIRO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Seven Arab states have agreed to present he Oman case to the United Nations Security Council, an Arab League spokesman announced today.

The spokesman said that as soon as the other two member states — Iraq and Libya — are heard from the league will meet to make a joint decision on taking the case to the council.

The Arab League Political Committee met for an hour and a half today. With all members represented except Jordan, the committee heard a report on Oman by rebel representative Mohamed El Harsy.

Harsy reportedly explained to the committee that Britain had respected Omani independence until an oil company began exploring the area. Then the British moved in to establish their own ally, the Sultan of Muscat as ruler of the area, he was quoted as saying.

Harsy said Omanis were confident they would receive Arab aid generously, since they are "fighting for the sake of Arabism."

Navy Commissions New Ranger, Carrier to Be Sent to Pacific

Shakedown Cruises Scheduled First — 60,000-Ton Flattop Is Third of the Forrestal Class.

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 10 (AP)—The Navy commissioned its newest aircraft carrier today and announced that the 60,000-ton flattop, the U.S.S. Ranger, will be assigned to the Pacific fleet.

The Navy said in Washington that the Ranger, following shakedown cruises, will be sent to the Pacific as the first of its class to operate there. It is the third Forrestal class carrier.

The Navy said the Ranger will report to the Pacific fleet in the summer of 1958 after shakedown and training activities with the Atlantic fleet.

In remarks at the commissioning of the Ranger at the Norfolk navy yard in nearby Portsmouth, Va., Adm. Arthur W. Radford said United States policy places primary reliance, in event of a general war, on a strong retaliatory capability.

Radford spoke before an audience of more than 6000 top military figures, crew members and guests on the carrier's four-acre flight deck.

Eighth in a line of naval ships to be named Ranger, the new CVA-61 represents the most powerful type warship in the modern Navy. Fully loaded, it carries a striking force of 100 bomber and fighter planes, most of which are jets.

Official signal for commissioning activities to start was the delivery of the $200,000,000 carrier by W. E. Blewett Jr., president of the company which built it.

Part of the backdrop for the Ranger's commissioning in the south end of the naval shipyard was the carrier Forrestal, first of the Navy's newest supercarrier type to be built.

The Ranger arrived in the yard Thursday to begin a 60-day fitting-out period. Keel for the 200,000 horse-power ship was laid in August, 1954.

$15,000 SOUGHT FOR FAMILY OF GIRARD'S VICTIM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP) — Representative James G. Fulton (Rep.), Pennsylvania, has introduced a bill to award $15,000 to the estate of Mrs. Naka Sakai, the Japanese killed by Army Specialist 3-C William S. Girard.

Mrs. Sakai's husband would receive $3000, and $2000 would go to each of her six children or their guardians.

Under Fulton's bill, the payment would constitute "full settlement of all claims . . . against the United States, its agents, employes and members of the United States armed forces."

Girard fatally wounded Mrs. Sakai last Jan. 30 while she was scavenging scrap metal from a United States Army firing range.

The United States decided to let the Japanese try Girard. His attorneys fought the decision to the Supreme Court which upheld it.

ZELLERBACH SAYS REDS ARE LOSING GROUND IN ITALY

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—James D. Zellerbach, United States ambassador to Italy, said today Communism is waning in Italy while industrial production is gaining. He returned by plane for consultations with the State Department and a vacation in San Francisco.

Zellerbach, who has held the Rome post since January, said the Communists still posed a threat in Italy but that it is much less serious than it was.

"A good many intellectuals are quitting the party since the Hungarian revolt development," he said. He said the Reds also are losing ground among the rank and file in labor unions.

PLANE TO FLY 2000 MILES WITH SOME ENGINES OFF

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Aug. 10 (UP)—A giant Air Force C-130 turboprop transport took off today on a 2000-mile low-level flight in which it will use only two or three of its four engines in a test of horsepower efficiency.

The plane will skim at 200-feet level over eight states in 10 hours before returning to this base. It will fly a circular route to Illinois, avoiding populated areas and ground installations. It will turn around near Marion, Ill.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (UP)—Singer Marion Marlowe last night left a hospital where she had been ill with a virus infection, and plans to go to St. Louis tomorrow to convalesce.

Miss Marlowe, a native of St. Louis, entered Doctors' Hospital Aug. 3.

Storms Damage Coffee Crop.

SAN SALVADOR, Aug. 10 (AP)—Heavy rains and strong winds were reported today to have caused extensive damage to the nation's coffee crop. A strong earthquake also was felt in the capital. No casualties were reported.

MOSCOW RADIO ASSAILS AMERICAN FENCE CLIMBER

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Moscow radio today accused an American delegate to the World Youth Festival of trying to climb over fences guarding Soviet defense installations.

The broadcast said he was Stanley Ray Mumford, 21-year-old theological student at Whitworth College, a Presbyterian institution, at Spokane, Wash.

The radio quoted the Literary Gazette as saying Mumford persistently scaled fences around Moscow defense installations. His explanation was: "I found myself separated from my delegation and climbed the fence to take a short cut to the stadium."

The broadcast said the fence was around a plant working for defense.

"The hospitality and kindness of Muscovites are boundless," said the broadcast. "The future little priest did not get into trouble in connection with his love for short cuts."

He apparently demanded payment for his film, which the police confiscated. The radio said he was paid 15 rubles ($3.75 at the official rate.)

Mumford, found again near the plant explained he had reported his first detention to the American embassy and an official asked him to find out the name of the factory, the broadcast said.

ASSERTS ALLIES WOULD MEET ANY ATTACK IN KOREA

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP)—The new Army vice chief of staff said today any renewal of Communist aggression in Korea "will be met by the armed might of the United States and its allies in the United Nations Command."

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, who recently was promoted from the Far East Command, said the presence of two American divisions along the Korean truce line " demonstrate clearly to our Korean friends that we are willing to share with them the dangers of living within range of Communist guns."

Lemnitzer said the United States has no intention of permitting a recurrence of the situation in 1950, when partly trained and lightly equipped South Korean forces had to bear the early brunt of stemming the "unprovoked and deliberately planned aggression by invading Communist armies."

BATISTA NAMES NEW LEADERS IN FIGHT ON REBELS

President Shifts Officers in Eastern Cuba —Clash Announced in Central Region.

HAVANA, Aug. 10 (AP)—The government today named new army commanders for the fight against Fidel Castro's rebels in eastern Cuba as the first clash between rebels and army troops in central Cuba was officially reported.

Col. Alberto del Rio Chaviano was named commander of military forces in Oriente province, eastern center of sporadic fighting against President Fulgencio Batista's government. Col. Candido Curbelo was put in charge of hunting rebels.

Chaviano said he would "liquidate the rebels in the Sierra Maestra (mountains) and combat the fifth column operating among the population around the Sierra." Castro has headquarters in the mountains.

Chaviano succeeds Col. Pedro Barrera Perez, who was relieved yesterday and named military attache of the Cuban embassy in Venezuela.

Barrera's other job of regimental commander near Havana was filled by Col. Manuel Ugalde Carrillo, who has been accused by Batista opponents of mistreating prisoners while supervisor of the Osla de Pinos prison.

A communique said three rebels were killed and several wounded in fighting around ranches in Las Villas province of central Cuba. No army casualties were reported and the date was not given. The action was believed to have taken place several days ago.

Torture and Murder by Batista Followers Alleged.

©New York Times News Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 — A former officer in the Cuban army charged yesterday that the regime of President Fulgencio Batista had tortured and murdered many of its political opponents.

Jorge Garcia Tunon, a former brigadier general in command of the Columbia Infantry Division at Havana, said that before he was exiled last November he had witnessed the "horrible torture" of a number of army officers. He said he himself had been tortured and "brainwashed" in the military intelligence service prison in Havana, where he was held for three days.

In an interview here, Garcia said he had recently received a letter from a Cuban government official warning him not to say anything about events in Cuba lest members of his family be murdered and their property confiscated.

Last Nov. 2, three days after his release from prison, Garcia related, he, his wife, their two daughters, his three brothers, who also were officers in the Cuban army, and their children, were put aboard a plane to Miami. Garcia came here several days ago for the medical treatment of his wife.

He had high praise for the new United States ambassador to Cuba, Earl E. T. Smith, who touched off a controversy recently. The ambassador, who had witnessed the police suppression of a demonstration by 200 women in Santiago, tolds newsmen that "any sort of excess police action is abhorrent to me."

Garcia also said he would like to congratulate Secretary of State Dulles and the people of the United States "because they have always been with the people who love liberty."

Telling of the reason for his break with the Batista regime, Garcia said: "When Batista seized power he promised the army that he would respect our country's constitution and its institutions. He did not keep his promise. He abolished various civil rights, devised a new constitution, made himself an absolute dictator and put his friends in position of power."

Russian Wheat Harvest.

MOSCOW, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tass reports 200,000 volunteers from all parts of the Soviet Union are helping harvest wheat in Kazakhstan. They include about 13,500 city boys and girls from Moscow spending a month on the farms, says Tass.

Pilot Reports All Four Alpinists Trapped on High Peak Are Alive

One Believed to Have Died Waves Weakly From Face of 13,036-Foot Wall— Others Are Above.

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland, Aug. 10 (AP)—Swiss glacier pilot Hermann Geiger reported that all four of the Alpinists blocked on the north wall of the 13,036-foot-high Eiger mountain were still alive today.

Observers using telescopes saw one of the four men remain suspended on a rope without moving all day yesterday, and he was believed to have died.

Geiger said the man waved to him weakly as he flew past the vertical rock face today. The three others are tied to the snowcovered rock some 300 feet higher up the face, and have made no progress since yesterday.

Rescuers from five nations set out today but with only slim hopes of being able to help them.

Geiger said the trapped climbers were in better shape than the isolated man lower down, but all apparently were suffering from exposure, exhaustion and lack of food.

Heavy snow fell during the night and a gale lashed the almost vertical rock face on which the men have been trapped since Monday.

The plight of the four men launched the largest rescue operation ever seen on the Eiger, a mountain in the Jungfrau massif of south central Switzerland. Nearly 100 men set out with ropes, pulleys, sleds, medical supplies and food.

The group of guides from Switzerland, Italy, France and Germany, plus a 20-man team of expert Polish climbers in the area for training, was taking an easier route than the north face to reach the summit. They will try to help the men from above.

The north face was first climbed in 1938. In all, only about 20 alpinists have made the difficult ascent. The perpendicular wall, which leans outward in many places, has claimed 17 lives. It has never been climbed downward.

Swiss police identified the four climbers as Guenther Nothdurft, 27 years old, and Goetz Meier, 26, both of Germany, and Stefano Longhi, 44, and Claudio Cordi, 29, of Como, Italy.

SENATE OK'S HIKE OF $170,000,000 IN AID TO VETERANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Senate needed only a few minutes last night to approve increases of about $170,000,000 a year for some 2,000,000 veterans with service-connected disabilities.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, of the Senate Finance Committee explained the veterans' increase briefly and then it rolled through on a shout of approval.

The measure now goes back to the House for consideration of minor Senate amendments. The House previously approved it unanimously May 13. Byrd explained that the bill boosts monthly disability payments for most disabled veterans and those who now get allowances for dependents. The increase is more liberal than a 4 per cent boost proposed by the Administration.

The monthly rate for total disability would be increased from $181 to $225; that for 10 per cent disability from $17 to $19; 50 per cent disability from $91 to $100; 80 per cent disability from $145 to $160, with similar increases for other categories.

BARONESS WENTWORTH DIES, RECOGNIZED HORSE BREEDER

LONDON, Aug. 10 (UP) — Baroness Wentworth, considered one of the world's top breeders of horses, died yesterday in a hospital at Crawley, Sussex. She was 84 years old.

She was the daughter of the famous Victorian traveler and poet William Scawen Blunt and a great-granddaughter of Lord Byron, the poet, through her mother, Lady Anne King-Noel. She was a champion royal tennis player, the original game which is not usually regarded as a woman's sport. She was also an excellent squash player and continued to play until late in life.

She knew the Middle East well and traveled widely in the deserts collecting Arab horses to bring back to England to her stud at Crabbet, built up by her father and mother. She was the widow of the third Earl of Lytton.

CHINA'S PEASANTS TO BE 'EDUCATED' IN SOCIALISM

TOKYO, Aug. 10 (UP)—Communist China has ordered a sweeping "socialist education" of China's peasant population following ominous signs of rebellion, the Peiping People's Daily admitted today.

The newspaper said government workers have been attacked and beaten by some elements opposed to Communist rule.

A New China News Agency broadcast heard here quoted the newspaper as saying the powerful Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party ordered the education program Thursday to stem a return to "capitalistic tendencies" in farming communities.

It said that the government faced a long-term task in changing landlords and rich peasants into "socialist" laborers.

FAMILY SEES TRAIN KILL MOTHER, TWO CHILDREN

HURON, O., Aug. 10 (AP)—A speeding train hit a baby carriage here yesterday, killing a woman and two children, while her husband and three other children watched.

The dead were Mrs. Ernest Ball, 42 years old; Mary Ann, 3, and Ruth Arlene, 8 weeks. Conductor J. R. Freeman of the New York Central's Chicago-to-Cleveland mail, express and passenger train, said they were moving at the limit of 80 miles per hour when the engineer, U. F. Moylan saw Mrs. Ball and her children crossing the tracks. He applied the brakes, but it was too late.

Fireman S. J. DeFalco said he saw Mrs. Ball struggling with the carriage while the other children stood and watched. Just before the collision, one child—Mary Ann— ran to her mother's side and was killed too.

HOUSE APPROVES 11 PCT. FEDERAL WORKER PAY HIKE

329-to-58 Vote Indicates Enough Strength to Override Threatened Veto.

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — The House of Representatives passed last night a bill to give an 11 per cent pay rise to nearly 1,000,000 Government employes. The vote was 329 to 58.

Covered in the measure would be those in the classified or white collar services and some 10,000 employes of the legislative and judiciary branches.

The cost would be an estimated $530,000,000 a year and would be on top of a $317,000,000 annual increase for 500,000 postal employes, voted recently.

Threatened Veto.

This action was taken in the face of a threatened veto by President Eisenhower. Warnings that the increase would set off a spiral of pay increases appeared to catch no appreciable House attention.

Representative Tom Murray (Dem.), Tennessee, who heads the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, led the futile fight against the pay bill.

Representative Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican deputy minority leader, also spokes against the bill. Many members left their seats while floor arguments proceeded.

Representative Elford L. Cederberg (Rep.), Michigan, tried to cut the increase to 7½ per cent, the amount the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee has approved for Senate consideration. His proposal was voted down, 110 to 71.

Legislative, Judiciary Workers.

A 126 to 114 vote prevented the elimination of the 10,000 legislative and judiciary workers who had been included among the regular white collar workers. Protest was made that no hearings had been held in this phase of the pay rise and that such a question was under the jurisdiction of other House committees.

Another effort, to send the bill back to the Post Office and Civil Service Committee for further consideration, was beaten.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, contained some limitations. Under no conditions annual pay increase could exceed $1000. Nor could the general increase put a salary above the present $16,000 limit placed by the classification act.

It was figured that the average salary increase among the beneficiaries would be about $518 a year. The postal workers got $564.

This was the Administration's second recent defeat on pay rise measures. The volume of votes indicated the presence of the necessary two-thirds required to override a presidential veto.

ESTIMATE BOARD OK'S STUDIES OF WATER DIVISION PLANS AND RATES

Surveys Costing $69,000 Will Provide Programs for Completing Improvements, Adjusting Fees.

Two studies to provide the city with programs for the completion of improvements to the water system and for the eventual establishment of a new schedule of rates for water usage were approved yesterday by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

The surveys, which will cost about $69,000, were authorized earlier when the budget for the water division was established.

One of these will be made by the accounting firm of Price, Waterhouse and Co. and will be designed to provide the division with an accurate cost accounting system. This will cost $40,000.

Engineering Survey.

The other, an engineering study to determine the approximate cost of completing the modernization program and the revenue and rate requirements of the division, will be made by the engineering firms of Black & Veath and Horner & Shifrin. This study will cost $29,000.

Water Commissioner Conway B. Briscoe, who recommended the surveys, said that decreasing surpluses in the water division made it necessary to consider whether water charges should be changed to finance improvements to the water system.

He said that operating surpluses which until four years ago had exceeded $1,100,000 annually had decreased to about $350,000 annually because of increased operating costs.

The division has undertaken a $32,000,000 improvement program which will use all past and expected future surpluses and the proceeds of $7,500,000 in bonds authorized in 1944. About $5,500,000 additional will be required in the next few years to complete modernization of the system, Briscoe said.

Rate Changes Needed.

Some changes will be required in St. Louis water rates to meet this need, Briscoe said. He said there had been no change in local rates in 39 years and that St. Louis water was the best and cheapest in the entire country.

He added he believed that changes in rates to the average flat-rate user and the small-meter user would be slight. A more equitable schedule might bring greater increases to industrial users, he commented.

The Board also approved the draft of a proposed ordinance to re-establish an escrow fund for neighborhood rehabilitation work. A similar fund was abolished recently by the Board of Aldermen, which transferred the $211,000 balance in the fund to general revenue in an attempt to balance the city's budget.

29 RETIRED TEAMSTERS GET FIRST PENSION CHECKS

Twenty-nine members of Teamsters' Union, Local 600, who have retired, received their first pension checks of $90 today at ceremonies in Teamsters' Hall, 4141 Forest Park avenue. The plan formally went into effect today in 25 states.

The pension plan, officially entitled Central States, Southeast and Southwest Area Pension Fund, was negotiated in 1955 and provides for retirement at the age of 60, after 20 years in the industry. Payments of $90 a month will be made for five years and after that, $22.50 a month for life.

The cost of the program is borne by about 4000 trucking firms, which contribute $2 a week for each of the 132,000 members of the union. It was estimated that 33,000 union members will come under the plan in the next four years.

nedy, questioned him intensively at a closed session recently about any tie-ups he may have had with Dio.

Met Dio in New York.

The union leader, who is president of Teamsters Joint Council No. 13 here, said he explained to the committee representative that his only business with Dio occurred in 1953 or 1954, when Dave Beck, national president of the Teamsters, sent Gibons to New York to investigate the possibility of organizing taxicab drivers.

"Dio, as a regional director for the old AFL United Auto Workers, was then in charge of union activities involving taxicab drivers in New York," Gibbons related.

"I had a three-fold job: To convinc Dio to step out; to see what he had that we could take over, and to determine what it would take, in the way of men and money, to complete the job.

"That was my first meeting with Dio. I most probably had several other discussions with him along the same lines at that time."

Gibbons said he informed Beck that $100,000 to $200,000 would be needed, in addition to a large staff of union representatives, to organize the New York taxicab drivers. Beck never made a decision on the matter, he added.

Recorded Conversation.

In the recorded telephone conversation, the result of a wire tap, Dio on Feb. 18, 1955, told Anthony (Ducks) Corallo, a gangster associate, that he had talked to Gibbons the night before about George Baldanzi, a Teamsters organizer and an associate of Corallo.

Dio assured Corallo he was convinced that Gibbons was not "knocking" Baldanzi.

Gibbons told the Post-Dispatch he was in New York on the date of the reported conversation with Dio, but has no recollection that it ever occurred.

"I know of no reason why I should discuss Baldanzi with Dio," he said. "Besides, there was no occasion for me or anyone else to 'knock' Baldanzi or to 'try to straighten him out,' as indicated in the recorded telephone talk.

"Baldanzi is a great union man, one of the finest speakers on the labor movement I have ever known. He spoke once at a meeting here at Kiel Auditorium and, when he finished, not a woman in the place had a dry eye."

Talks With Baldanzi.

Gibbons said he called Baldanzi and had a telephone conversation with him after the Senate committee released the Dio tape recording Thursday.

"He knows what I think of him," he stated. "I introduced him to Beck and brought him into the Teamsters organization. He's the kind of man we want. I'm proud to have him as a friend."

Although the Senate committee is considered certain to call Gibbons as a witness, the labor leader said he has heard nothing on this point.

"If they call me, I won't take the Fifth Amendment," he asserted. "Jim Hoffa (James R. Hoffa, Gibbons's close associate who is expected to succeed Beck as Teamsters president) and I agreed that this would be the course we'd follow if we are called."

ABSENTEES FAVORED CHARTER BY 2 TO 1

Official Count Shows 1805 Ballots For Instrument, 977 Against It.

The proposed city charter, which was defeated overwhelmingly at a special election Tuesday, received a favorable majority of nearly two to one among voters who cast absentee ballots, complete official returns from the election showed today.

A tabulation announced by the Board of Election Commissioners showed 1805 absentee ballots were east in favor of the charter and 977 against it.

The total of all votes was 72,160 in favor of the charter and 108,618 against it, a losing margin of 1.5 to one. The total vote of 180,778, a record for a special election on a single city issue, represented 50.9 per cent of the registration of 354,644.

Meanwhile, the election board planned to look into a scattering of additional reports that in some precincts ballots were cast by a few voters who, neighbors said, no longer live at the addresses from which they were registered. Three such instances were found in Precinct 3 of the Eighteenth Ward and two each in Precinct 23 of the Thirteenth Ward and Percinct 10 of the Third Ward by Post-Dispatch reporters.

Harry Leitz, chief clerk of the election board, pointed out which was defeated overwhelmthat in certain instances state law allows voting by a voter who has moved but whose registration address has not been changed. He said some errors may have resulted from the fact that the board did not canvass voter registrations immediately in advance of the charter election.

SUBDIVISION TRUSTEES SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST KENNEL

Suit to enjoin Mr. and Mrs. August F. Koedding III from maintaining a kennel in the rear of their home at 431 Spoede road, Creve Coeur, was filed yesterday by trustees of the Oak Park Estates subdivision.

The petition, filed in circuit court at Clayton, alleged that the Koeddings violated subdivision restrictions by building the kennel without approval of the trustees, and have kept "one or more dogs" whose barking constituted a neighborhood nuisance. The kennel was described as a 10-by-20-foot inclosure of concrete slab under a plywood roof, with a wire fence 5½ feet high.

Mrs. Koedding said the family has had only one dog at any time since the new home and kennel were completed last December.

AIR FARE HIKE REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday again rejected a request for a 5 per cent increase in trans-Atlantic airline fares.

The board had originally disapproved the request last May but the airlines asked for reconsideration. CAB said the substantial increase in passenger and freight traffic more than offset the increases in prices paid by the carriers for wages and supplies.

'JOE MUST GO' EDITOR TO HEAD NEW NEWSPAPER

SHEFFIELD, Ala., Aug. 10 (UP)—Leroy Gore of Sauk City, Wis., is coming here soon to put out the first edition of a new newspaper Oct. 15, it was announced last night at a stockholders' meeting.

Gore will be editor of the yet unnamed paper. As a Wisconsin newspaper man, Gore started the "Joe must go" movement to oust the late Senator Joseph McCarthy.

Gorman R. Jones, an attorney and secretary-treasurer of the group, said Gore and his family would arrive Aug. 15 to start work on the paper. He said it is expected to be a tabloid morning daily.

INQUEST CONTINUED IN DEATH OF WOMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Howard M. Sharp of New Orleans, who was struck by a Missouri Pacific passenger train last Tuesday in Kirkwood, was continued yesterday at Clayton with a threat by St. Louis County Coroner Raymond I. Harris to jail the train's fireman if he persisted in refusing to testify.

Both the fireman, Garland Anderson, 3125 St. Vincent avenue, and the engineer, Mark L. Hodges, 1651 South Spring avenue, declined to testify on advice of counsel on the ground their testimony might tend to incriminate them. Coroner Harris said only the engineer could take this position because he was actually operating the train.

Mrs. Sharp had been a patient at Barnes Hospital for a depressed mental state and had received permission to go to a drug store when she disappeared. Anderson told authorities he saw her emerge from a clump of weeds shortly before she was struck but lost sight of her because of a curve in the track. She was 49 years old.

BLAMES ZONING FOR LACK OF INDUSTRIAL SITES HERE

A "complete lack of planning" by zoning and other agencies in the St. Louis metropolitan area has resulted in a lack of desirable industrial sites here, Sterling P. Davidson Jr., mayor of Maplewood, said last night.

Addressing the Kiwanis Inner Service Club Council at Hotel Melbourne, Davidson said, "Because of the thinking embraced in our present zoning laws, many fine potential industrial areas have been, and are being, subdivided for the building of homes." He warned that facilities must be provided to attract new industries in order to provide an increasing number of jobs.

Davidson urged that the St. Louis County Council provide funds for a county-wide land-use survey that would include zoning recommendations and selection of sites for new industrial development. He also called for close adherence to the type of land use authorized in each zoning category to minimize rezoning.

SEATON WILL TOUR PACIFIC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton will leave tomorrow for a month's tour of United States islands in the Pacific. He will be the first Secretary of Interior to visit the islands since they were placed under department jurisdiction in 1950 and 1951.

ROOF CAVES IN, FIREMEN ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY

3 Make Way Down Ladder After Burning Ceiling Falls on Them While Fighting Blaze.

Three firemen narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday when the burning roof of a two-story building at the northeast corner of Olive street and North Jefferson avenue fell on them.

The men, who made their way to a window and down a ladder, are Fire Capt. Louis Stauss and Fireman George Steffens of Engine Co. 21 and Fireman Thomas Osborn of Engine Co. 32. Steffens and Osborn were treated for minor burns at City Hospital but Stauss was able to stay on the job.

Fireman Jack Unger of Engine Co. 32 was taken to the hospital suffering from smoke inhalation. Fireman Robert Berra, also of No. 32, stepped on a nail.

A motorcycle policeman at the scene, Patrolman Paul Atley, was thrown off his machine when it went over a hose and he suffered a fracture of the right wrist.

The building, of brick construction, was vacant except for one business establishment on the ground floor, the Whipple Printery. Before the building was sold to the city last February for $25,000, to make way for the widening of Jefferson, there were six firms on the first floor and a physician's office and apartments on the second.

Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Hugh F. Lyon at $8000 to the building and $2000 to the print shop. The fire appeared to have started on the second floor. The blaze was discovered at 2:45 p.m., and brought under control about two hours later. The cause was not determined.

Traffic was badly disrupted as the westbound volume increased, and was diverted to other streets.

ASSERTS REVENUE AGENTS WORK TO KILL INCOME TAX

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 10 (AP) — J. Bracken Lee says thousands of men are working day after day in furthering his crusade against the federal income tax.

Who are these men?

Why, says Lee, the former Republican Governor of Utah, they are the collectors of internal revenue.

It is Lee's theory that the harder the income tax collectors work, the angrier the taxpayers will become. A nation mad about income taxes is exactly what Lee wants.

"It is an evil tax, a dishonest tax," Lee says. "We started fooling around with the Constitution and came up with the income tax.

"Now this Government is no longer by the people. The government is our master."

Lee went down in last November's election, losing to George D. Clyde. Lee was trying for his third four-year term.

He became national chairman of For America last March. In his new job, Lee has taken to the road to campaign from coast to coast against the Sixteenth (income tax) Amendment.

JOHNNY DIO IN HURRY TO GET BACK TO HIS PRISON CELL

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi on special parole while appearing before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington, seemed to be in a hurry last night to get back to his city prison cell.

Arriving in a private car, Dio sprinted to the prison gate and shouted to the guard on duty, "Open up, officer."

When the gate opened, Dio quickly ducked inside. He ignored questions by reporters.

Dio is awaiting sentence on an extortion conviction.

Removing Hot Wires

Union Electric Co. lineman removing 2300-volt wires from truck under which Roy Unger, a mechanic, was electrocuted yesterday after wires fell on the vehicle.

MAN ELECTROCUTED WHILE UNDER TRUCK

Power Lines Fall on Vehicle When Tractor-Trailer Snaps Utility Pole.

Roy Unger, a towing company mechanic, was electrocuted yesterday when two 2300-volt power lines broke and fell on a tow truck under which he was working. The wires snapped after a tractor-trailer struck a utility pole about 50 yards away.

Unger, 26 years old, was an employe of the Commercial Towing Co., 3654 Laclede avenue, and lived on the premises. He was working on a vehicle in an areaway at the rear of the Laclede avenue address when the accident occurred.

Afton Hambleton, 2110 North Third street, St. Charles, driver for the Northwestern Drayage Co., told police he had driven his tractor-trailer east in the alley behind Laclede and was trying to turn south into an intersecting alley, at 3615 Forest Park avenue, when the trailer jack-knifed, striking the pole on the north side of the alley.

Unger's body badly burned, was pulled from under the truck by employes of the nearby Johansen Shoe Co., who looped a rope around it.

EX-CONVICT ADMITS BEATING MAN TO DEATH IN $1 ROBBERY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SALEM, Mo., Aug. 10—Charles E. Fisher, of St. Louis, has admitted beating Kenneth O. Laughlin to death in a $1 robbery July 8, autrorities here said today.

Fisher and a companion, David L. Sproull of Alton, are being held on first degree murder charges. Prosecuting Attorney William Seay of Dent county said Fisher admitted in a written statement that he beat Laughlin, father of five children, with a fence post "in a fit of maniacal fury and madness." He also said he took $1 from the dead man.

Seay said Fisher and Sproull met Laughlin in a tavern and later drove with him toward the home of relatives of Fisher. Fisher said he and Sproull commandeered the automobile and drove to a side road where Fisher beat Laughlin. Salem is about 125 miles southwest of St. Louis. Fisher, an ex-convict, escaped from the St. Louis workhouse in 1955 while serving a one-year term for parole violation.

FUNERAL WILL BE MONDAY FOR THE REV. J. H. HARVEY

Funeral services for the Rev. Joseph H. Harvey, vicar at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Valley Park and an assistant at the Church of the Holy Communion, 7401 Delmar boulevard, will be at 10 a.m. Monday at the Church of the Holy Communion, with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

The Rev. Mr. Harvey, who lived at 501 Benton street, Valley Park, died yesterday of heart disease at St. Joseph Hospital in Kirkwood. He was 81 years old and had been an assistant at the St. Louis church for seven years and vicar at St. Luke's for two years. A native of Mississippi, he was ordained in 1907 and came to St. Louis in 1913 as vicar at St. Augustine's Episcopal Church, Richmond Heights. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club and was active in Valley Park civic and religious groups.

EX-AIR OFFICER CHARGED WITH FILING FALSE CLAIM

Michael Murphy Jr., a former Air Force captain, was charged in a federal warrant yesterday with attempting to obtain $461 from the Government by falsely claiming moving expenses from Washington to St. Louis. He was to have been an analyst at the Aeronautical Chart Center here.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said that instead of shipping his household furniture here, Murphy obtained a weight-bill for a load of sand and submitted it for payment. They said he sent his wife and child to South Carolina to live with relatives.

Murphy was released on $1000 bond. Maximum penalty for the charge of filing a false document is a $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Wrong Spray to Do It.

DETROIT, Aug. 10 (AP)—Ray Wolfe, who works as a mosquito sprayer, filled his truck and whisked down three blocks yesterday with his huge spray nozzle blowing full force. Then he glanced up to see bubbles blowing all over the neighborhood. He had poured 50 gallons of liquid soap instead of mosquito killer into his tank.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To End an Empty Policy

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

On July 2, Senator John F. Kennedy offered a resolution to both houses of Congress calling upon the Secretary of State to use American influence and prestige in behalf of a peaceful and rapid solution to the Algerian conflict.

Specifically, the Kennedy resolution proposes that the President and Secretary of State exert the "influence of the United States behind efforts, either through NATO or through the good offices of the President of Tunisia or the Sultan of Morocco, to achieve a solution which will recognize the independent personality of Algeria and establish the basis for a settlement interdependent with France and neighboring nations."

In addition, the resolution implies, and we specifically indorse, the establishment of sound guarantees for the rights of the French minorities.

Failing satisfactory developments by the next U.N. General Assembly session, the Kennedy resolution further proposes that the United States assume the leadership through the United Nations in bringing about "an orderly achievement of independence" in Algeria.

We believe that this resolution embodies the most fruitful elements of statesmanship and restraint. At the same time, it represents an imaginative and bold departure from the empty policy our Government has pursued in Algeria since the war began.

In the interests of those democratic ideals for which we are prepared to sacrifice so much during these critical times, in the name of security, and in the hope that we may deter our historic friend, France, from this suicidal policy, we urge the United States Congress to act favorably on the Kennedy proposal.

We are confident that our fellow Americans, directly and through their elected representatives, will support this view.

Why Vote?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The right to vote, in order to express the people's will, has been turned into a farce in St. Louis county. Concerning the proposed Inner Belt Expressway, county voters studied a given route and then voted bond funds. This was in 1955.

Now, after two years of silence on this subject, officials have maliciously gone against the voters' desires and have changed the Inner Belt route into an evil monster that threatens to mar one of the most beautiful sections of the county. Not only will many homes be destroyed and parks and hospital grounds taken, but also many peaceful residential areas will be depreciated.

So far, with only minor exceptions, progress has been made at the expense of slums, dilapidated buildings and previously planned right-of-way. Why vote when county officials do as they please anyway?

DICK KNIGHT.
University City.

Webster residents are more than a little dismayed at the newly proposed route of the Inner Belt Highway — a route that cuts Webster right down the middle without regard for heavily taxed residential property, park and playground facilities and school and fire districts.

Webster residents are seeking answers to the following questions:

1. Why was the route advertised in the 1955 bond issue abandoned?
2. Why was an engineering firm hired to propose a new route?
3. Is Sverdrup and Parcel's proposal the only other route to be considered?

ERNA RUDOLPH.
Webster Groves.

Contributing to Inflation

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Has it occurred to anyone that the Administration, while decrying inflation, is actually contributing to it?

The idea that high taxes and high interest rates will curb inflation is a fallacy. If examined under the same rules as wages, that is, in relation to production, high taxes and high interest will be seen to be definitely inflationary. Every business figures these factors as part of its cost and insists on a profit figured on a percentage of the gross.

Similarly, the private individual wants pay after taxes to be adequate to maintain his standard of living, and does his utmost to attain this end.

A. G. MacNICHOLS.

Two Amendments

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Unconstitutional to boot? Maybe, as you say, the jury-trial amendment to the civil rights bill is unconstitutional. However, while you are telling your readers of the unconstitutionality of our laws, have you the courage to go all the way?

Tell your readers about the Fourteenth Amendment. Tell them how a Republican-dominated Congress violated the Constitution to ram the Amendment through both houses. Tell them it was ratified to complete the political, economic and social rape of the South.

No, I'm not a Rebel, but I have the courage to face and admit the truth. Have you? E. R. GORDON.

Still Marking Time

The latest increase in Federal Reserve rediscount rates has precipitated the usual political argument, which is less relevant than ever just now. Instead of debating whether the Federal Reserve is checking inflation or creating it, those who like to argue such things might address themselves to the question of whether the inflationary conditions that gave rise to this new increase are rapidly disappearing.

In other words, will an anti-inflationary policy which seems appropriate to the Federal Reserve at this moment still seem appropriate several months from now? Or is the national economy at a turning point?

A significant warning has been issued by Sumner H. Slichter, professor of economics at Harvard University, that the number one economic problem is no longer inflation, but the problem of restoring expansion to the economy.

Individuals must be persuaded to increase their spending, Mr. Slichter says, thereby creating markets for a larger volume of production, if the economy is to resume the upward movement that has now been interrupted for more than six months. An economy that marks time while the population is growing actually is declining; and our production system has been marking time since the last months of 1956.

* * *

As Mr. Schlichter points out in a letter to The New York Times, production during the second quarter of 1957, instead of picking up as expected after the first-quarter lull, continued at about the same rate, and today is only one-half of 1 per cent greater than it was at the end of last year.

The reason is a relative fall-off of consumer spending even though personal incomes have been rising. During the second quarter, incomes went up by 4.2 billion dollars a year over the first quarter, yet consumption expenditures rose only 1.1 billion and buying of consumer durable goods such as refrigerators and TV sets actually declined. The small rise in spending was not enough to offset the rise in prices, so that in fact Americans reduced their physical consumption in the second quarter.

When people have rising incomes which they will not spend, what is the explanation? One reason may be that they are paying off debts instead. Another may be that they are exerting a little anti-inflationary influence of their own, rebelling against the steady rise in the price of just about everything.

* * *

Whatever the explanation, everybody has a stake in seeing to it that the interruption of consumer spending does not become permanent. For in that event the personal incomes which finance consumer spending would also start declining, and the interruption would become a spiraling decline. The Federal Reserve would then have to forget about restraining credit and lean the other way against a wind from the opposite quarter.

Mr. Schlichter thinks only business, not the Government, can persuade the consumer to resume spending. And in the end there is only one practical way business can do it. That is to offer better goods at more attractive prices.

The statistics point pretty clearly to the fact that continuous inflation is the road to economic stagnation. To get back on the road of an expanding economy, business needs to abandon the idea that the consumer will pay any price for anything.

The Victors Have the Ball

Mayor Tucker has called the hand of those Charter opponents who have been urging in vague, general terms action to salvage what they call the "good" provisions of the proposal. He says he will co-operate wholeheartedly in any effort to amend the Charter provided that the work of the Freeholders is used as a guide. That is reasonable and precise.

Those who opposed the Charter "in its present form" now have their opportunity. They know where Mr. Tucker stands. If they were sincere in their pre-election assertions that there were many good things in the Charter, then let them come up with their suggestions and be judged by them. If the proposals have merit, the Mayor is pledged to co-operate in helping make them effective.

That the Mayor would condition this pledge on the amendments being based on the work of the Freeholders is understandable enough. The Board of Aldermen would enjoy the final say-so on submission of Charter amendments. In December 1955, when the Aldermen were attempting to forestall the election of Freeholders, sugstions were made that the Charter be revised by amendment. One of the first ideas to occur to the politicians was an amendment to remove some 2000 city jobs from the merit system and restore them as political spoils.

In any event, the victors of Tuesday have the ball. They can run with it or they can stand still. St. Louisans will be watching to see which.

Where to Begin

The reforms which the Circuit Judges and Citizens' Committee are seeking to bring about in the juvenile court will need to go back as far as the beginning of work with juveniles, and spread out as wide as the community.

Mandates of the various public agencies dealing with juveniles need to be completely rethought. They need to be re-thought in terms of the whole job as it may best be divided among the agencies at work, principally the Board of Children's Guardians, the Family and Children's Service and the Juvenile Court and its probation department. These agencies, furthermore, will need to function together as complementary parts of a single mechanism, as they do not now do.

A National Probation and Parole Association survey strongly urges a new conception of the task at hand. It recommends "redefinition of the court's functions to include principles of child care, facilities and services developed since the court was founded 50 years ago." The report goes on to comment that "failure to define its functions in terms of modern child care principles and services has contributed to the poor performance."

This same point was made by the June Term Grand Jury in Circuit Court last year by reference to "obsolete statutes" which do not "fulfill the responsibility of the State." Still earlier, in 1952, the Child Welfare League of America declared in a study of the Board of Children's Guardians: "A new ordinance in keeping with modern child welfare concepts and principles should be drafted."

The same unanimity of opinion appears on the point that our community effort for young people should be but is not co-ordinated. "The role of the court and probation department is reminiscent of the days when juvenile courts and probation departments were the only child welfare agencies in most communities," says the National Probation and Parole study. The Grand Jury spoke of "ill-defined areas of operation among the hodge-podge of agencies." The Child Welfare League found that the Board of Children's Guardians seemed "isolated from association with other official and voluntary agencies which, together with it, constitute the community's network of child welfare services."

These broad acts of planning are not all that wait to be done. The building and staffing of a court and detention building, the putting into operation of modern, efficient administrative methods and professional services, are likewise essential. But the place we have to begin is at the very beginning—by determining in our own minds exactly what it is we are setting out to do, and by what means we are setting out to get it done.

Chance for Harold Gibbons

Harold Gibbons of St. Louis, who regards himself as a progressive civic leader as well as a union official, is to be asked by the McClellan Committee about racketeers — especially John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi—in the Teamsters' organization. So he may be of more help to the congressional investigators than Dio has been with his repeated invocation of the constitutional privilege against self-incrimination.

Gibbons, a hard-working supporter of the ambitions of James Hoffa to replace Dave Beck as the Teamsters' president, has been brought into question concerning the racketeering element by the tape-recording of a conversation between Dio and Anthony (Ducks) Corolla. The committee accepted this as proof of talks among Gibbons, Hoffa and Dio before Hoffa forces, allegedly with Dio's help, took over the Teamsters' Joint Council in New York. Even so, this rather cryptic record does not establish the nature of Gibbons' attitude toward Dio and his associates. It is suggestive at most, rather than evidential.

The tape-recording, although obtained by District Attorney Frank Hogan in compliance with New York law, would not be admissable as evidence in a federal court. So the old argument may be raised that a congressional committee should not listen to what a federal judge would not hear. But quite aside from the less narrowly defined authority of Congress, this hardly is the genuine point in the present situation.

There has been enough other evidence of the activities of Dio and his kind in the Teamsters organization in New York. There is evidence, too, that through this organization Hoffa extended his influence from Detroit and the Middle West to the Atlantic seaboard. So there is reason for the committee to ask Gibbons if he knows about a connection between these two facts. And the committee certainly is empowered to ask him what he knows, in general, about the infiltration of unions by racketeers, and what he has done about it.

Since Gibbons seems almost as ambitious as Hoffa to rise in the Teamsters' hierarchy, and since he and his St. Louis locals take such an interest in public affairs, he surely has a moral obligation to shed as much light as he can on a development which may be as threatening to the public interest as it is to the labor movement.

What the committee has revealed so far affords no adequate basis for a judgment of Gibbons and his policies. Gibbons should welcome the opportunity to open up his record for public inspection.

Heedless Horsepower

More than 81 per cent of the 1956 traffic casualties resulted from driver error, according to the annual report of the Travelers Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. About 97.5 per cent of the vehicles involved were in good condition and 80 per cent of the accidents occurred on dry roads in good weather. In the face of these statistics it appears that the company is justified in placing the principal blame upon "heedless horsepower." And the first word from Detroit on the 1958 automobiles is: They will have more horsepower. If the usual amount of laxity and leniency in enforcing traffic laws is to go along with the new models, is there any reason to expect a decrease in the traffic death rate?

Ceylon and the Office Boy

Ceylon has not fully assimilated the office boy. In no other light can we explain the 20-hour strike of telecommunications workers over the insistence of office boys on eating luncheon with their fingers instead of their knives and forks. Many an American employer would settle like a shot for an office boy whose only imperfection of manners was eating with his fingers.

The office boy—we speak of him now as an institution, which, of course, he is—is a law unto himself, and occasionally he is even an office unto himself. The Ceylonese are simply going to have to learn that. One who does not sit with his feet cocked up on the boss's desk is a find. One who does not sit with his feet cocked up on anybody's desk is a jewel.

For, truth to tell, office-boying is not a career, and yet it is not quite not a career, either, in its own appointed and limited time. Its practitioner is one who is, in Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's words, "standing with reluctant feet, Where the brook and river meet," and Longfellow's genius has never shone forth more clearly than in that word "reluctant."

The Ceylonese telecommunications workers had better telecommunicate this essential fact to themselves: There is only one practical way to take the office boy. And that is to take him and like him.

One Measure of Federal Aid

President Eisenhower's conference of Governors to determine how states can help decentralize federal functions is off to a glowing, non-decentralized start.

Gov. Victor E. Anderson of Nebraska said in Hershey, Pa., that the Federal Government should pay all construction and maintenance costs for the 41,000-mile interstate highway system, and not just 90 per cent. At the same time Gov. Anderson opposed federal aid for school construction because "that's properly a state function."

The exact difference between federal aid for building schools and federal aid for building highways may be difficult for citizens to grasp. Why should one public construction effort be further centralized; the other kept decentralized?

One difference, of course, is that the Federal Government always has paid the lion's share of road building costs and the states are so accustomed to it that they never protest or cry out "states' rights." But a second difference is that the interstate highway program will cost at least 27 billion dollars, while school-aid, defeated in the House, would have cost a little more than a billion.

We hope the states' interest in or aversion to federal assistance is not in proportion to the amount of assistance offered, for that can hardly be what President Eisenhower had in mind when he asked the Governors for advice.

Need Our Elm Trees Die?

The Mirror of Public Opinion

They need not, New York farm paper says, because many communities have learned how to control Dutch elm disease through sanitation and spraying; former involves removing injured trees; latter requires DDT; both actions should be prompt.

Francis W. Holmes in The Rural New Yorker

In countless towns whose streets and parks are lined with stately elms, people can take heart in realizing that, even with today's limited knowledge, losses caused by the Dutch elm disease can be kept low.

After this disease entered the United States in 1930 on elm logs shipped from Europe to American veneer factories, there was widespread fear that the American elm would go the way of the American chestnut. It was imagined that our streets might become as desolate as some of our woodlands. But such apprehensions were not fully justified.

It is true that control measures did not succeed in preventing the spread of Dutch elm disease through the range of elms in this country. Nor have they yet. During 1956 the disease was reported for the first time in Wisconsin, and it was found in many new locations in other affected states and Canadian provinces.

But within the vast area of the Northeast where Dutch elm disease has been found, elm trees have by no means disappeared. Dutch elm disease is much easier to control than chestnut blight. The latter fungus was blown directly from tree to tree through the air, but one that causes Dutch elm disease is carried, with the exception of a few cases where roots of adjacent elms graft together, only by insects.

Beetles as Fungus Carriers

The fungus depends primarily for transportation upon the lesser European elm bark beetle, which came to America with the Dutch elm disease, and the American elm bark beetle, which was already here. These tiny brown insects, which are seldom seen, should not be confused with larger and brighter elm leaf beetles whose habit of over-wintering in attics makes them so bothersome to housewives. The elm bark beetles over-winter under elm bark.

Elm bark beetles carry the Dutch elm fungus on their bodies as they fly from diseased elm wood to young twigs and branches of healthy trees. Here they feed on the inner bark.

In return for the free ride, the fungi do a favor for the beetles; they kill the trees. The beetles must lay their eggs under the bark of weakened, dying, or recently dead elms.

The leaves of infected elms wilt, become yellow, and turn brown; then they fall. The current, or recent, sapwood of the tree has a brown discoloration. A diseased elm may die within a few months, or it may struggle on for several seasons before finally succumbing. Only 45 days after bark beetle eggs are laid in a dying elm tree, as many as a million young beetles may emerge. It is they who again spread the disease fungus as they feed on nearby healthy elms.

Way to Stop Deadly Pair

Discovery of the co-operation between fungus and bark beetles has shown one way to stop the deadly pair in their tracks. Since elm bark beetles breed only in elm wood that has recently died and on which the rough bark is still tight, destruction of this wood holds down the local beetle population and reduces the amount of disease spread. Malaria is held in check much the same way, i.e., by treating breeding places of mosquitoes.

A program based on breeding-place destruction, which is called sanitation, does not involve merely the removal of diseased elms. Sanitation means (1) prompt destruction of entire elms that are dying or have died from any cause, (2) removal from healthy elms of all broken or dead branches large enough to have rough bark, and (3) prevention of cut elm-wood or brush piles unless the bark has first been peeled off and burned.

Sanitation is effective because very few elm bark beetles fly more than 1000 feet from a dead elm log or branch, where they were born, to a healthy twig on which to feed.

Most of the steps in a sanitation program are measures that a community tries to fulfill anyway. The problem lies only in their not being performed promptly. The 40 to 60 eggs laid by one adult beetle in early summer become 40 to 60 young beetles emerging to feed on—and spread disease to—nearby elms in some six or seven weeks. With two generations per year, one parent beetle can have nearly 2000 grandchildren by the end of a season. Therefore, money that will eventually be spent anyway for pruning out dangerous, dead branches and for removing dead trees can be a much more vital factor in disease control if spent early.

DDT as a Second Defense

Most of the towns actively combating Dutch elm disease also rely on a second defense: thorough dormant spraying with DDT emulsion in xylene. This spray on twigs and branches often causes the beetles to fall to the ground in their death throes before they have had time to gnaw through the thin bark and thus before the fungus has been able to enter the tree. Sprays also reduce the number of beetles that survive long enough to lay eggs.

The amount of DDT necessary to control elm bark beetles is many times higher than the amount needed to contral leaf feeding insects like the elm leaf beetle, elm cankerworm and gypsy moth. To avoid injury to other plants and to avoid interference by the elm leaves, applications must be made while the trees are still dormant. The dormant DDT spray must be thorough and heavy enough to last for the summer.

Not only must the concentrations of DDT to kill bark beetles be high, but the amount of spray applied to each tree must be great. Applications must be made during periods of utterly calm air. DDT must reach the uppermost twigs in large enough amounts to kill bark beetles that may land there months later. Analyses of deposits of dormant sprays applied in various communities show great variability. While some deposits are almost satisfactory, others are nearly useless. The effectiveness of a dormant spray for elm bark beetle control depends not only on good weather, right formulations, and effective equipment, but also on the experience, skill, thoroughness and probity of the operator. The spray man must apply three to five pounds of actual DDT per tree.

Cost Is Usually Lower

On elms sprayed regularly with DDT there may be a great increase in mites and aphids. While these pests are merely irritated by DDT, their natural enemies are generally killed. Miticides and aphicides can be incorporated in foliar DDT sprays, however, to control mites and aphids at the same time as other leaf-feeding insects.

Our studies in the shade tree laboratories at the University of Massachusetes have shown beyond doubt that in many communities Dutch elm disease can be held within reasonable bounds by a careful job of sanitation and dormant spraying. The cost of such a program is usually lower, even over a period of many decades, than the cost of just removing the dead elms that would otherwise line the streets. In addition to this saving, of course, comes great conservation in property values. Depreciation accelerates rapidly upon the deaths of beautiful old elms.

The Politics of the Canal

GUILTY MEN, 1957: SUEZ & CYPRUS, by Michael Foote and Mervyn Jones. (Rinehart, 264 pgs., $1.95.)

Here is a partisan account of the prelude to the Suez intervention and subsequent debacle of the British and French activity by a political columnist for the Labor Daily Herald, Mr. Foote, and a Labor member of Parliament, Mr. Jones.

Their theme is that old colonial imperialism was at work in the instances of Suez and of Cyprus. Cyprus was also the jumping-off base for the Suez operation. The men who planned and executed these maneuvers are still at the helm of the British Government and still don't deserve to be, according to the authors.

Secretly France and Britain planned their operation against Egypt. They ignored the machinery of the United Nations which eventually branded them as aggressors. These two governments, in collusion, tried to pull the wool over the eyes of the United States Government after all three governments had signed a Tripartite Declaration which specifically dealt with the maintenance of peace in the Middle Eastern area.

Anthony Eden

To start with, thinks The Observer, France got wind of Israeli intentions against Egypt. France and Israel made some secret deals and then, behind Mr. Ben-Gurion's back, M. Mollet and Mr. Eden did some secret plan hatching of their own.

Lord Salisbury, the Queen's mentor, indorsed Eden's action and later proposed Mr. Macmillan, who also indorsed Eden's action, for the Prime Ministership in January 1957. The same minded men are at the head of the British Government who were there before the United Nations branded England as an aggressor.

But that's politics and Suez politics is what this book is all about. In 1875 Lord Derby, then Foreign Secretary, authorized the British consul in Cairo to buy 45 per cent of the shares in the Universal Suez Canal Corporation, and Disraeli, then Prime Minister, found out about it and was able to claim the credit. On July 26, 1956, Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal Co., but maintained that all users would have a voice in the operation of the canal itself. But since 1875 Britain had been able to exercise more than 45 per cent of the say-so about the canal and she wasn't going to give any inches in 1956.

The British activity in the 1956 situation is recorded in detail, with rusty-bladed swipes at the present Government and the ever-present prayer for a better future just inside the book cover.

Here is reeking politics in an exciting, volatile, absorbing book.

Guide to Better Painting

THE ART AND TECHNIQUE OF PORTRAIT PAINTING, by Frederic Taubes. (Dodd, Mead, $4.)

Mr. Taubes, one of our leading portrait painters, believes that modern painters lack the craftsmanship of the great masters of the past, and that a thorough training in craftsmanship would improve their work correspondingly. This guide he has prepared in the basic techniques of portraiture should certainly help in that direction. Mr. Taubes gets right down to fundamentals—the materials to be used, perspective, placement of the figure, the painting of each detail of the head and face, and so on. Each step is illustrated with detail drawings embodying the craftsmanship aforementioned. The student and amateur painter will find many hints in these pages worth remembering, and the lay reader, too, will discover how a portrait is built up, step by step, to the final result.

EAST GERMANS GIVEN ORDER TO CRUSH ANTI-REDS

BERLIN, Aug. 10 (UP) — Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev has ordered local Red leaders to crush anti-Communist resistance in East Germany, scene of the first "Hungary-style" revolt against Russian rule.

In Leipzig yesterday, Khrushchev called on the Communists in Germany to crush their "class enemies."

"You must not fall asleep," he said. "There must be no reconciliation with other classes."

Khrushchev spoke three times in Leipzig. As elsewhere during his tour of Red Germany, the public response was cool.

Today Khrushchev traveled to Dessau from Leipzig, the East German news service AND reported.

Television cameras recording his appearance at a "mass rally" in Leipzig stadium showed many more seats than people. At least two-thirds of the stadium's 100,000 seats were empty.

Noticed Adverse Reports.

Khrushchev himself took notice of reports that East Germans are less than enthusiastic about his tour. He told militia units paraded before him that Western newspapers probably would say they were forced to March.

"These Bourgeois press reports make no impression on us," he said. "We have lived through 40 years of it, and we haven't lived badly."

He promised Red Germany's Stalinist rules that they can count on the full military support of the Soviet bloc to keep them in power, and assured them they need not fear that they will be swept out of office by free elections.

Khrushchev's call for a crackdown apparently was inspired by the new wave of unrest that has swept Red Germany since Russian armor crushed the anti-Communist revolt in Hungary last year.

He said the "workers' militia" must be strengthened enough to prevent any recurrence of the "labor revolt" that flared in Berlin in 1953, three years before the similar hungarian uprising.

Aid Is Assured.

The Soviet leader assured Germany's Reds, however, that they could count on immediate aid from Russia and its satellites in dealing with any "imperialist military adventures."

Khrushchev repeated the Soviet stand that conquered Germany can only be reunified through prolonged negotiations between West Germany and the Soviet zone leading to the creation of a "neutralized" state.

He dismissed the Western demand for free all-German elections as a preliminary to re unification as "hardly worth discussing."

The views expressed by Khrushchev strengthened Western belief that Russia will never give up its control of Red Germany until it is forced to do so.

Khrushchev's attitude also appeared to have blasted hopes that his "down with Stalin" campaign in Russia might mean the end of domination of Red Germany by Walter Ulbright, a protege of the late Russian dictator.

Ulbright is accompanying Khrushchev on his tour of Soviet installations in Germany. The Russian leader referred to him at one point as "my friend," and in another speech said Ulbright and his followers are "traveling the only right path."

West German Political Parties Ignore Reunification Speech.

© New York Times News Service.

BONN, Aug. 10—All of West Germany's major political parties yesterday turned the expected cold shoulder on Nikita Khrushchev's restatement of the Communist formula for German reunification.

The press service of Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic union dismissed the Khrushchev address in which Adenauer's was roundly berated as an election speech in behalf of the Chancellor's socialist opposition.

"On the question of reunification, Khrushchev said nothing positive," the party organ said: "To him the question is not the unity of Germany but the unity of the socialist states, and this is revealing testimony as to the real purpose of his visit (to East Germany)."

Erich Ollenhauer, Social Democratic party chairman, said in a campaign speech that the only way to reunification was by free elections and agreement of the four great powers on an internatinal military status for a reunited Germany. The responsibility of the four powers remains, said Ollenhauer, and it cannot be shrugged off as Khrushchev would like.

A Free Democratic party spokesman said the Khrushchev speech contained nothing new.

LUTHERANS TO HOLD WORLD ASSEMBLY

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Lutheran leaders from every continent and many countries will gather at Minneapolis, Minn., Thursday for a significant religious meeting that will last 11 days.

The event is the third assembly of the Lutheran World Federation, international organization of the world's largest Protestant group, representing some 50,000,000 Lutherans from 57 member churches in 29 countries.

It will be the first world conclave of Lutherans to meet on American soil in many years. Assemblies were held in Lund, Sweden, in 1948, and in Hannover, Germany, in 1952.

Bishop Hanns Lilje of Hannover, federation president, will preside at all formal sessions and will give the keynote address. Other speakers will include Bishop Otto Dibelius of the Church of Berlin-Brandenburg, president of the Evangelical Church of Germany; Bishop Rajah B. Manikam, Tranquebar, India, and Bishop Lajos Ordass of the Lutheran Church in Hungary.

Eleven churches in St. Louis belong to Lutheran bodies affiliated with Lutheran World Federation; nine are United Lutheran churches, and one each of Augustana and United Evangelical Lutheran churches.

The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, the largest Lutheran body that is not a member of the federation, will be represented at Minneapolis by 15 official visitors and many more unofficial visitors.

Heading the Missouri Synod delegation will be the Rev. Dr. John W. Behnken, president of the 2,000,000-member denomination, and three of its four vice presidents, the Rev. Drs. Arnold H. Grumm, Herman Harms, and Oliver R. Harms.

The Rev. Dr. Alfred O. Fuerbringer, president of Concordia Theological Seminary, who is in Europe on a world tour of his church's professional schools, will interrupt his travel to fly back to Minneapolis for the assembly.

Other Missouri Synod official visitors from St. Louis are the Rev. Dr. Lawrence Meyer, synod planning counselor; the Rev. Dr. Clarence Peters, chairman of the Board for Young People's Work; the Rev. Dr. O. H. Schmidt, secretary of foreign missions, and Otto A. Dorn, general manager of Concordia Publishing House.

The Rev. Dr. Arthur C. Piepkorn of Concordia Seminary faculty will go to Minneapolis as a representative of the seminary and to take part in a theological conference to be held in connection with the assembly.

The Missouri Synod last year declined membership in L. W. F. because it would "involve us in a union in spiritual matters with groups not in doctrinal agreement with us," but expressed its willingness to meet with federation officials "to discuss all points in question."

Lutheran churches in East Germany are sending 23 delegates and two official visitors to the Assembly; this number represents only a few more than half the churchmen who were expected to come from the East Zone. Bishop Gottfried Noth of Dresden already is in this country for the assembly; he is one of 11 delegates from the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Saxony, which has nearly 4,500,000 members.

The Lutheran Church in Poland has named four delegates and an official visitor, the visitor being a woman editor.

BAPTIST BUDGET HAS FUNDS FOR WORK WITH NEGROES

The proposed 1958 budget for the Illinois Baptist State Association includes for the first time funds for work with Negroes, Baptist Press reports.

Directors of the state body approved a proposed budget for next year of $575,000 to be split 65-35 between the state work and the Southern Baptist Convention missions. The goal is $25,000 higher than the 1957 budget. The budget will be submitted later this year to the annual association meeting.

BRETHREN BUY LAND FOR FIRST CHURCH

Church of the Brethren has bought land in Crestwood as the site for its first church in the St. Louis area. Three acres of a wooded tract in the 700 block of Rayburn avenue was purchased by the church's Middle District of Missouri.

Church of the Brethren has been holding Sunday services since January in the Kirkwood Y.M.C.A. Sunday school is at 9:30 a.m. and church service at 10:45 a.m. The Rev. D. Eugene Lichty is the pastor; he is a teacher in Affton Junior High School. Dr. Evan Young is moderator of the small congregation.

The Metropolitan Church Federation has granted comity privileges to the Brethren for the county area between Sappington road and Lindbergh boulevard. The date for starting construction of the new church has not been set, the Rev. Mr. Lichty said.

Next year the Brethren will observe the 250th anniversary of the founding of their church in Schwarzenau, Germany. Most of the Brethren churches are found east of the Mississippi river, with a large number in Pennsylvania, where the first church of the Brethren in America was founded at Germantown in 1719.

ST. LOUIS METHODIST MEN ATTEND ANNUAL RETREAT

About 800 laymen from 200 Methodist churches of the St. Louis Conference are attending their annual retreat this weekend at the Methodist Assembly grounds, Arcadia, Mo. The retreat opened yesterday and will close tomorrow.

The guest speaker is the Rev. Dr. Roy L. Smith, of La Jolla, Calif., Methodist preacher, author, and former editor of the Christian Advocate, national journal of his church.

The retreat is sponsored by the conference Board of Lay Activities under the direction of J. Clinton Hawkins, conference lay leader. Hawkins has just returned from a meeting of the Y.M.C.A. World Council in Europe, and he will describe his trip in an address at the retreat tomorrow.

The Methodist conference is spending $20,000 to improve the Arcadia campgrounds and buildings, and men at the retreat were told that more than $15,000 of this amount had been paid or pledged.

'Marry the Girl Who Lives Across The Street,' Psychiatrist Advises

"Every boy should marry the girl who lives across the street from him," according to a Brooklyn psychiatrist.

"The meaning is clear," said Dr. Paul A. Qualben; "people of the same faith and background are at a distinct advantage in their efforts to find marital happiness with each other."

Dr. Qualben, a layman of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, was one of 15 authorities speaking on marriage and family relationships during a six-day conference, ended yesterday, at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. The session represented all Lutheran churches in America.

A total of 65 participants in lectures and panel discussions represented the fields of medicine, sociology, economics, law, psychology, psychiatry. Also included was a group of mothers and housewives.

"These Lutheran women are here to help us keep our feet on the ground," a conference official explained.

Dr. Qualben told the group that divorce rates are only one index of the amount of active unhappiness in marriage.

"Almost 2,000,000 married persons are separated because of marital instability," he added. "But surveys reveal that another one-fifth to one-sixth of all couples think of themselves as unhappily married. And an equal number report only 'medium happiness' . . .

"Many couples live alongside each other rather than with each other and are divorced emotionally though not legally."

The psychiatrist warned young couples contemplating marriage that "love alone is not enough."

"Romantic love is pleasant and brightens the world," Dr. Qualban said. "It is as old as the human heartbeat, but trouble results when it is used as the sole basis of marriage.

"Other considerations are more fundamental," he emphasized, "like suitability of temperament, religious agreement, background, age, outlooks on the future, education, career, family, theories of upbringing."

MISSOURI SYNOD PREPARES MEN FOR KOREAN MISSION

Three men will leave late in September to serve the missions of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in South Korea, it was announced here this week. They are the Rev. Kurt E. Voss, a Pennsylvania pastor, and two June graduates of Concordia Theological Seminary, Paul Bartling and Maynard Dorow. They will engage in their church's first work in Korea.

The Rev. Mr. Voss, who was a misionary to China from 1939 to 1946, will be accompanied by his wife, a native of Norway, and their three daughters.

Bartling is the son of the Rev. Dr. Victor Bartling of Concordia Seminary's faculty; he did his two years of vicarage duty in Nigeria. Dorow's home is Garner, Ia.

The men will spend the first year in Seoul, studying the Korean language.

Cards Still Team to Beat, Red Says After Braves Do It, 13-2

Tribe's Lead Now Best of Season

By Bob Broeg

Like one of his hunting dogs on the scent of the quarry, Red Schoendienst today sniffed a pennant — for Milwaukee, not the Cardinals—but the polished old pro was too foxy to underestimate the foe.

"They're cold right now and we're hot, but they're still the club we have to beat, even more than Brooklyn," Schoendienst said encouragingly of his former teammates after the Braves had crushed the slump-shackled Cardinals, 13 to 2, in last night's opener of an important three-game series at Busch Stadium.

The Braves' explosive 18-hit attack, to which the redhead contributed a perfect "4 for 4" performance, including two doubles, enabled Milwaukee to move to its longest lead of the season, three and one-half games. Schoendienst and Company now have won six straight while the Redbirds have lost four in a row.

"They'll bounce back," observed the 34-year-old second base master, "and we're not taking 'em lightly. You know, much as I hated to leave St. Louis because it's my home now, the big reason I didn't want to be traded a year ago, as I said then, was because I felt the ball club was a young one on its way."

No Climate Control.

Schoendienst, excused by Fred Haney last night after playing seven innings during which he started two scoring frames, kept alive another and climaxed one more, grinned as he wiped away perspiration.

"I believe it, now that I've become accustomed to the cooler weather in Milwaukee. St. Louis is as hot as visiting players have complained," Red digressed, then returned, grinning, to his personal fortunes.

"I've had a great break, though," he said, "coming with this Milwaukee club, one that thinks it can win and is playing like it, the reserves rallying to help when some of the regulars have been hurt, important guys like Joe Adcock and Bill Bruton.

"Bruton," said Schoendienst, "is like Don Blasingame to the Cardinals, a fast man who gets on base in front of the power and also a top defensive player."

The substitute for Bruton's substitute, replacing injured Andy Pafko, rookie Bob Hazle, a lefthanded hitter recently called up from Wichita, hammered three singles and a homer last night as the Braves connected for 37 bases, a product of eight singles, five doubles, a triple and four home runs.

Well, If You Insist.

While the leaders flexed their muscles against Lindy McDaniel and replacements, the Cardinals totaled nine hits and had the benefit of eight bases on balls off fast-firing. Bob Buhl, but the Redbirds are allergic to home plate these days. Except for a homer by Del Ennis in the second and a run Buhl insisted they take in the ninth, forcing across a reluctant Redbird, the Cards shied away from their opportunities. Buhl, as a result, finished with his fifteenth victory, his fifth in succession.

Schoendienst, hitting .332 since Milwaukee acquired him from the Giants, has been praised by other clubs, the Braves' command and his new teammates as the sparkplug, the steadying influence in the lineup as well as a consistent contributor to both offense and defense. Milwaukee Coach Johnny Riddle, who was with him four years here, boosted Red as the most likely Most Valuable Player candidate.

The New Red.

Schoendienst, though an instinctive player, never had displayed an especial talent for leadership in his years of stardom with the Redbirds. Could he explain his new take-charge role?

"It's simple," he said. "When I was a kid, I was too young to assume authority and, besides, you're in no position to try to help pitchers unless you know the league. When I did get to the point where I'd move an outfielder, for instance, I found Eddie Stanky had his own ideas.

"Understand," Red emphasized, "I happen to think Stanky was a smart manager, but he was the boss and ran things his own way. When I went to the Giants, Bill Rigney asked me to help wherever I could and Fred (Haney) has done the same with the Braves. I'm glad when my experience or judgment helps."

Milwaukee, too, is most happy that baseball's Huckleberry Finn is giving the Braves the benefit of his know-how as well as his busy bat and gifted glove.

REDBIRD NOTES

Von (6-2) McDaniel, 18-year-old Cardinal righthander, and Warren (11-8) Spahn, Milwaukee's 36-year-old southpaw, probably will be the opposing pitchers tonight at 8 o'clock. . . . A crowd of 26,800 paid for last night's game. There was a grandstand sell-out except for about half of 1400 seats to which the club had committed itself long in advance for special youth groups. When the kids didn't show up, management ate the tickets that could have been sold.

Sara Cooper, 18, Miss Missouri, and runnerup Anita Riggs were escorted to home plate by bachelors Eddie Kasko, Joe Cunningham, Don Blasingame and Bob Miller for pre-game ceremonies in which roses were presented the girls. Articulate Kasko then surprised sidekick Cunningham with a wristwatch provided by Longines because of the homer Jersey Joe recently hit against the company's clock atop the right-center field pavilion.

Wally Moon, benched in favor of hitless Cunningham, singled as pinch-hitter. . . . Del Ennis's homer was his sixteenth. Bob Hazle's was No. 1 while Hank Aaron drilled his thirty-first and Wes Covington his thirteenth. The first two Brave four-baggers were off loser Lindy McDaniel, the last two off Lloyd Merritt.

Aaron, who also doubled, passed hitless Stan Musial in the batting race, .334 to .332, and tied The Man for the RBI lead by adding three. Each has 87.—B.B.

Snead's 134 Leads Tam Tourney; Dutch Harrison Has 142 Total

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Will Sam Snead blow golf's biggest money tournament?

Some of the pros in the field of 100 think that the only way Sam will be kept from carting off $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract will be by beating himself.

Snead today entered the third round of Tam O'Shanter's "world" jamboree with a two-stroke edge. He slammed a 69 to go with an opening 65 and pulled up at the half way junction yesterday with a 10-under-par 134.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, followed his opening round of 74 with 68 for an aggregate of 142.

Al Balding, a lanky 33-year-old Canadian, wheeled into second place with a 69 for 136. Although Snead is a hard man to catch when he breaks on top, Balding isn't in the least concerned.

Asked if he would rather have any player except Snead setting the pace, Balding said:

"It doesn't make much difference to me. I remember last winter at the Mayfield Open in Sanford, Fla., Snead led after the first two rounds with 64-70 and I was second with 69-66. I was teamed up with him for the last two rounds. I passed him like he was standing still, finishing with 66-68 for 269 to win. Don't even remember how Snead came out."

While Balding wasn't figuring on a Snead blowup to beat him, some of the other pros were thinking it would take just that.

Sam made one of the finest recoveries in tournament golf this year in the Western Open in June. He took a 6-over-par 10 on the fourth hole in shooting a first round of 75. Then whizzed back in 69, 65, 71 for 280 and a tie for fifth place.

Four strokes behind Snead with 138 were Shelley Mayfield and Mike Souchak. Bunched at 139 were Ed Oliver and Tony Holguin, while Bob Rosburg and Arnald Palmer were bracketed at 140.

Other "world" sections looked this way:

Women pros—Louise Suggs, twice a runner-up, with 4-under-par 148 for a two-stroke lead over Joyce Ziske and Fay Crocker.

Women amateurs—All American winner Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., with 159 for a six-stroke edge over Sandra Clifford of Mexico City and Lois Drafke, Chicago.

Meaux, Barnett Ride Dead Heat At Fairmount

Clarence Meaux and Richard Barnett, battling for the jockey championship at Fairmount Park, wound up in a dead heat for first place in last night's feature event.

Meaux, who has 30 victories to 22 for Barnett, was on String With Me, leader for the one-mile-and-70-yard race until the final drive, when Barnett drew even with Impossible. After viewing the photos, the placing judges could not separate the two horses and hung up the dead heat sign.

Impossible, co-favorite in the betting at $2.70 for $1, paid $4.20, $4.20, $3.00 across the board, while String With Me, a 6-to-1 shot, rewarded his backers with $6, $5.80 and $4.20. Part Time, in third place, was six lengths behind the leaders.

Barnett also won with June W, while Meaux brought Bugle Corps into the winner's circle.

The double on Creme-De-Cocoa and Changeaway paid $134.60 for $2. A crowd of 5214 wagered $212,515. The win dead heat was the second of the meeting. The other came July 27, when Decontrol and Quick Payoff finished even.

Calloway K and War Marshal, each of which has won twice at the meeting, will go in tonight's one-mile-and-one-sixteenth feature. . . Others in the race are Rare Vintage, London, Arioso 2nd, Chief Fanelli, Yellow Fly and Miss Kirkwood.

Akins Scores 8th Round TKO In Hart Fight

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 10 (UP)—Virgil Akins, veteran St. Louis welterweight, clamored today for a shot at the winner of the Ray Robinson-Carmen Basilio title bout, figuring he earned it by his upset eight-round technical knockout over Garnett (Sugar) Hart last night.

Referee Lou Parker stopped the fight after 49 seconds of the eighth round, but many ringsiders in the public auditorium felt he should have made the gesture mid-way in the seventh when a looping right hook dropped Hart for an eight-count, after which he arose and absorbed a merciless pasting.

Akins's manager, Ed Yawitz, immediately claimed a shot at "the winner of the Robinson-Basilio fight" for the third-ranked, 29-year-old Akins, who includes 23 knockouts in his 43-16-1 record.

"We're ready for either Robinson or Basilio after Akins's showing against Hart," Yawitz said.

As an afterthought, however, Yawitz added, "we'll fight anyone they (the I.B.C.) decide on."

Akins and the tenth-ranked Hart of Philadelphia, weighed 148 pounds each for their televised bout.

Akins began hurting the 20-year-old Hart, who suffered his third loss in 25 bouts, in the sixth round with stiff combinations to the body. Hart seemed unable to protect himself in the seventh, during which he took a terrific pounding against the ropes.

"My strategy," Akins explained, "was to wait around and let him throw himself out before the sixth round." Apparently it worked. The fifth was the only frame in which sportswriters were unanimous in giving to Hart.

Akins landed four straight rights to Hart's head in the second round. This stanza put the handwriting on the wall, though Hart did not appear seriously hurt then.

Even in the fourth and fifth when Hart made his most serious bid against the 29-year-old veteran, it was Akins who moved forward into the punches. Hart back-pedaled, though he was throwing most of the leather. His punches, however, had no power.

In the final two rounds, Akins delivered a stand-em-up, knock-em-down attack, moving Hart from ring-post to ring-post, pasting him unmercifully. Hart was down for the full count in the seventh, but came back just long enough to collect another vicious series of right and left hooks from Akins until Referee Parker jumped between the limp Hart and the stalking Akins.

Yankee Lead Going Through Slicer; 3 Games Lopped Off; Orioles Climb Up to Fourth

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (UP)—Don't look now, Casey, but your lead is shrinking and the White Sox figure there's still time to take the Yankees to the cleaners. Casey Stengel has been warning the Yanks all along they can't afford to relax and if they think he was all talk, he can show 'em the American League standings today which point up the fact that their lead has been sliced from seven games to four.

Only a few days ago, everyone was talking about another Yankee runaway but now they're buzzing about how the never-say-die White Sox still have a chance and how those amazing Baltimore Orioles have bounced back to take over fourth place under Paul Richards' canny direction.

The Orioles, as a matter of fact, used the Yankees as a stepping stone to fourth place when they came from behind to beat them, 4-3, last night.

The White Sox, still determined to make a race of it, defeated the Tigers, 5-4, in 11 innings, and Washington, which has caught the winning spirit, too, blanked Boston, 8-0. Kansas City beat Cleveland, 3-2, in 13 innings.

In the National League, Milwaukee increased its lead to three and one-half games with a 13-2 shellacking of St. Louis. Brooklyn licked Pittsburgh, 4-2; the Giants beat the Phillies, 6-2, and the Redlegs ended the Cubs' six-game winning streak by sweeping a twi-night double-header, 9-7 and 6-4.

Bob Nieman broke out of a prolonged batting slump when he drove in all four of Baltimore's runs against the Yankees. Nieman, who had only one hit in his last 21 at bats, connected for his eleventh homer in the fourth inning and then lined a three-run double off loser Whitey Ford in the sixth. Lefty Bill Wight was the winner with eight-inning relief from George Zuverink.

Staley Is Winner.

Larry Doby's single in the eleventh inning scored Nellie Fox from second base and capped a two-run rally for the White Sox after Detroit had gone ahead with a run in the top of the inning. Reliever Gerry Staley, a former Cardinal, won his second game in as many days and his fourth of the season against no losses.

Pedro Ramos, who makes a specialty of beating the Red Sox, held them to six hits as his Senator teammates collected 14 off three pitchers. It was Ramos's ninth victory of the season, three of which have been at the expense of Boston. Ramos now stands 11-3 with the Red Sox since entering the league. Art Schult drove in four of Washington's runs with four hits.

Billy Martin's single scored Bob Cerv in the thirteenth with the run that gave Kansas City reliever Virgil Trucks his eighth victory and dropped the Indians into fifth place. Ralph Terry of the A's had a 2-1 lead with two out in the ninth when Rookie Roger Maris tied the game with his twelfth homer. Vic Wertz hit his twentieth for the Tribe.

Limping Duke Snider, back in the lineup for the first time in a week, was the key man as the Dodgers snapped their three-game losing streak.

Snider Was Busy.

He decoyed Pirate Catcher Hank Foiles into dropping the ball and scored a run that put the Dodgers ahead in the fourth, then opened a two-run eighth with his twenty-seventh homer off loser Bob Friend. Rookie Danny McDevitt was the winner although Sandy Koufax and Clem Labine helped him out in the ninth.

Ray Crone hurled five-hit ball and Hank Sauer smashed his seventeenth homer as the Giants handed Robin Roberts his fifteenth defeat of the season. Roberts yielded all six Giant runs and eight of their 10 hits before leaving in the fifth. It marked Crone's first complete game since the Giants obtained him from the Braves on June 15.

The Redlegs won their twi-night twin bill from the Cubs with four-run rallies in the eighth inning of each game.

Feller To Be Honored.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 10 (UP) — Bob Feller will be doubly honored here tomorrow when he is formally admitted to the Cleveland Indians' Hall of Fame and also will be presented with a plaque for his work with the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Miss Beuckman Passing Up U.S. Junior Tourney

By John J. Archibald

Although she now has won the District Junior Girls tournament twice in the last three years and is still young enough to go for the title once more, 17-year-old Barbara Beuckman has no illusions of grandeur. Asked if she were going to follow up yesterday's District victory at Meadowbrook by competing in the National Junior Girls later this month, Barbara said no—that she once had thoughts of doing so, but she had decided to stay home and practice another year instead.

"If I had done well in the Western Junior tournament in Chicago last month I probably would have entered the National, but I qualified for Class A with a 96," said Miss Beuckman. "I won out in that flight, but I don't think my shooting indicated I'm ready for national competition."

If Miss Beuckman could score in out-of-town tournaments as she did in the District event, the good-natured Belleville girl would be able to play anywhere. After being medalist for the third successive year (tying for the honor last year) with three-over-women's-par 40, Miss Beuckman scored a 6-and-5 victory over Martha Breber in the first round of match play, was just four over par as she defeated Judy Torluemke in a semifinal, and was only three strokes over as she downed Margaret Hill, of Normandie, 2 and 1, in the final.

Once again Miss Beuckman warmed up slowly, but improved rapidly as the match went along. Miss Hill shot a 38 on the first nine and took a two-hole lead over Miss Beuckman, who had a medal score of 40.

The back nine at Meadowbrook is 355 yards longer than the front nine, though both are par 37, and Miss Beuckman used her ability to hit long and straight from the tee to gain an advantage. She picked up a hole on No. 10 with a par three as Miss Hill had a double bogey, then halved Nos. 11 and 12 with pars.

Birdies had upset her 12-year-old opponent, Judy Torluemke, the day before, and once again Miss Beuckman was able to pull birdies from her hat. On Holes 13 and 14, both par fives, Miss Beuckman got down in fours. She sank a 20-foot downhill putt on No. 13 and a good chip shot helped her on No. 14. That pulled the St. Clair Club girl from one down to one up.

Miss Hill, who lived in Omaha until last fall, had a seven on No. 15 and Miss Beuckman won with a bogey five. They halved the next two holes and it was all over.

Miss Hill, who will be 18 in December and therefore unable to play in the junior meet next summer, finished with a creditable eight-over-par for her 17 holes. Many observers predicted the newcomer to St. Louis, who reached the semifinals of the Women's District, will be a power to contend with in adult events here in the future.

Grid Giants Give All-Stars 22-12 Lesson

Two Passes by Conerly Decisive for Pro Eleven

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—The College All-Stars were supposed to teach the pros a lesson in passing, but the New York Giants used that weapon in spanking the campus grid kids, 22-12, at rain-drenched Soldier Field last night.

Two aerial shots by 33-year-old Charley Conerly, 10-season Giant veteran from Mississippi, to 28-year-old end Ken MacAfee, swung it for the National Football League champions.

The All-Stars, hanging their hopes on the arms of Stanford's John Brodie and Notre Dame's Paul Hornung performed well—but the college pass patterns just didn't develop as well as those of the Giants.

It was a rugged victory for the Giants. The Collegians who most made them hustle, besides Brodie and Hornung, included a crackerjack back from Wake Forest, Billy Ray Barnes, Southern California's Jon Arnett, Michigan State's John Matsko, Syracuse's Jim Brown, Illinois's Abe Woodson, and Mississippi's Paige Cothren.

Barnes scored the only All-Star touchdown on a 2-yard plunge in the first period to give the Collegians a 6-0 lead. He nearly broke away for a touchdown in the second quarter, but was nailed after a 29-yard run on a shoestring tackle by New York's Ed Hughes.

Barnes's sprint set up the first of two field goals by Cothren, and left the All-Stars trailing only 10-9 at halftime. Cothren's first boot covered 12 yards. His second, in the fourth period, was a 25-yarder to shave New York's margin to 17-12.

Sensing the inspired Collegians might achieve an upset, the Giants started the second half with a 77-yard drive in 10 plays to score on a 10-yard pass from Conerly to MacAfee, standing all alone in the end zone.

That gave the Giants a 17-9 lead and just about settled the issue. Then in the fourth quarter, after Cothren's second field goal, 38-year-old Ben Agajanian's second field goal—a 45-yard boot—sewed it up for good at 20-12.

Woodson was trapped in the end zone for a safety by New York's Dick Nolan in the closing minutes for the final two Giant points.

Agajanian, whose 33-yard fielder in the first period cut the All-Star lead to 6-3, used his foot for eight points, converting after both Giant touchdowns.

The nationally-televised contest was delayed by a thunderstorm 20 minutes at the start, but few in the crowd of 75,000 left the huge flood-lighted field. The throng, pulling for the All-Stars stuck right through a downpour which prevailed most of the final period.

Brodie completed 8 of 20 passes for 94 yards and Hornung 5 or 7 for 39. Barnes, headed for the Philadelphia Eagles, had the best rushing record for either team, 60 yards on 11 tries for a 5.4 average.

Arnett carried 10 times for 20 yards. The leading Giant ball carrier was fullback Mel Triplett with 17 carries for 74 yards and a 4.3 average.

Brown, although not used in the All-Star running attack, performed brilliantly on kick returns. Center Matsko was the busiest and perhaps most effective man in the stubborn All-Star defense.

The Giants' triumph was the fifteenth for the pros against seven All-Star victories and two ties. The last All-Star victory was in 1955, a 30-27 decision over the Cleveland Browns.

Longden's Leg Broken; Injury May End Career

DEL MAR, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—A broken leg has Johnny Longden hospitalized today. But his first reaction was that the injury will not necessarily end his career as the world's champion winning jockey.

Both bones of the right leg were broken cleanly just above the ankle when Royal Zaca, a filly at the post for the first time, reared in the starting gate just before the fourth race at Del Mar track yesterday. Longden's leg was pinned between horse and gate as he fell over backwards.

The 47-year-old jockey was brought to Scripps Memorial Hospital in nearby La Jolla, accompanied by Bert Thompson, western representative of the Jockeys' Guild. Thompson asked Longden:

"Is this it? Will you retire now?"

"We'll just have to wait and see," answered the man, who in his 30-year career has ridden 5090 winners, more than any other jockey.

UNION AMENDS CONSTITUTION TO PREVENT ABUSES

The Allied Industrial Workers' Union closed its convention at Hotel Statler yesterday after adopting constitutional amendments designed to prevent future violations of the AFL-CIO ethical practices code. The constitutional changes were enacted by unanimous vote.

One amendment requires that any application for a local charter must contain the signatures of at least 18 persons employed at the establishment to which the charter would apply. This change is to prevent the formation of "paper locals" such as those found to exist in New York to enhance the power of certain union leaders.

Another amendment prohibits any international officer of the union from receiving any compensation, direct or indirect, for any duties he might render a local union. The amendment was aimed at the reported practice of Anthony Doria, a resigned secretary-treasurer, of accepting substantial amounts from a Chicago local for services as financial secretary of the local.

Also adopted before adjournment was a resolution approving the code of ethical conduct set out by the AFL-CIO Executive Council and ordering AIW officers at all levels to carry out the code "to the fullest extent."

The resolution said that "only a labor organization which is free for corrupt influences, and free from the undermining efforts of Communist, Fascist and other agencies wihch are opposed to the basic principles of our democracy, can protect the interests of all its members to the fullest extent."

Previously the 500 delegates voted to take steps to recover $25,000 from Doria. When he resigned as secretary-treasurer he received a $50,000 settlement from the AIW executive board, half in cash and the other half in notes.

TROPICAL STORM LOSES PUNCH AS IT MOVES INLAND

NEW ORLEANS, Aug.10 (AP)—Tropical storm Bertha fizzled out today, moving inland over eastern Texas.

Bertha was moving northwestward at about 10 miles per hour, a weather bureau bulletin said, and it would be in north central Texas by tonight.

There was little threat of flooding, the weather bureau said, although heavy showers were likely near the center of the storm and in east Texas.

The bulletin said winds and seas along the Louisiana and Texas coasts would subside today, but warned small craft to remain in port.

3 WHO HELD FAMILY AS HOSTAGES GIVE UP

CANTON, O., Aug. 10 (AP)—Three men surrendered to police last night after a barrage of tear gas forced them from the house where they held a family of six as hostages for more than 24 hours.

Several shots at the more than 100 policemen who ringed the home were fired by the men before they gave up. There were no injuries.

The three men took refuge in the home of Homer Fenstermaker at nearby Louisville after robbing a grocery and shooting a policeman. When police discovered that the Fenstermakers were held captive by the robbers they surrounded the house.

The men threatened to kill 9-year-old Peggy Lou Fenstermaker if police fired on them. One telephoned the sheriff's office at Canton with threats that the women in the house would be harmed. None was injured.

After a two-hour siege the robbers surrendered when police backed an armored car up to the house and shouted an ultimatum.

Before the surrender one of the robbers handed a roll of bills to 14-year-old Connie Fenstermaker. It contained $306. The money was part of $400 obtained in a holdup at a grocery late Thursday.

In fleeing from the store the robbers shot and seriously wounded Louisville Patrolman Harris Lillie. Then they took over the Fenstermaker farm home.

The hostages were Mr. and Mrs. Fenstermaker and three children—Connie, Dale, 12, and Russell, plus Russell's daughter Peggy Lou.

The robbers were identified as William Rhodes, 25, Anderson, Ind.; Robert L. Kline, 20, Phoenix, Ariz., and Walter J. Miller, 28, Los Angeles.

BOUND BODIES OF MAN, WIFE WASHED ASHORE IN ENGLAND

BLACKPOOL, England, Aug. 10 (UP)—The bodies of a man and a woman washed ashore here today and police identified them as the missing parents of three girls found gassed in their London home Thursday.

A relative identified the bodies as Andrew Marshall and his wife Elsie. Police are investigating the possibility that the couple killed their three children then took their own lives by tying themselves together and jumping into the sea. Their bodies were still joined by ropes when found today.

GRONCHI PLANS VISIT TO IRAN

ROME, Aug. 10 (UP)—President Giovanni Gronchi and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella will leave Sept. 7 on a state visit to Iran, Italy's partner in a new multi-million-dollar oil deal, it was announced today.

The Iranian government recently approved an accord under which Italy will exploit potentially rich oil fields in Iran for only one-fourth of the profits. Previous arrangements with foreign oil companies were on a 50-50 basis.

J. H. SMITH JR. NAMED DIRECTOR OF AID PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—James H. Smith Jr., former Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Air, was named by President Eisenhower yesterday to take over the multi-billion dollar foreign aid program.

Smith will succeed John B. Hollister as director of the International Co-operation Administration, which runs the aid program. Hollister is returning to his law office in Cincinnati but has agreed to stay on the job until Smith's appointment has been confirmed by the Senate.

The new foreign aid chief is an Aspen, Colo., rancher and lawyer. He is 47 years old. A carrier pilot in World War II, Smith served as Assistant Secretary of the Navy from 1953 to 1956. There he was an outspoken advocate of naval aviation.

He was a vice president of Pan American Airways from 1946 to 1949, when he was elected a director of Slick Airways. Smith was born in New York in 1909, and is a graduate of Harvard University and Columbia University Law School.

Mr. Eisenhower also sent to the Senate the nominations of five delegates and five alternates to the United Nations General Assembly.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. was reappointed chief United States representative, with James J. Wadsworth of New York designated as his chief assistant, although technically an alternate.

Mrs. Oswald B. Lord also was reappointed as an alternate.

Representatives A. S. J. Carnahan (Dem.), Missouri, and Walter Judd (Rep.), Minnesota, were named as delegates to succeed Senators Hubert Humphrey (Dem.), Minnesota and William Knowland (Rep.), California. The practice is to alternate Senators and House members on the delegation.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Herman B. Wells, president of Indiana University, also were named delegates.

The other alternates nominated were Philip M. Klutznik of Park Forest, Ill., an attorney and a Democrat; Genoa S. Washington of Chicago, a Negro attorney, a Republican and president of the Chicago branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and actress Irene Dunne. Miss Dunne has been active in Republican politics for some years but has never held a Government post before.

STRIKE OF MAILERS SHUTS DOWN BOSTON NEWSPAPERS

BOSTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—More than 1,250,000 Boston residents were without morning newspapers today as a wage dispute involving 300 "mailers" forced six of the city's seven dailies to suspend publication temporarily.

One newspaper spokesman said the suspension might be a long one for the six dailies involved—the Morning and Evening Globe, Morning Herald, the Hearst Corporation's Morning Record and Evening American, and the Evening Traveler.

Some 5000 non-striking employes were notified not to report for work shortly after the mailers set up picket lines last night. It appeared that the city's three Sunday editions — the Globe, Herald and Advertiser—also would be affected by the strike.

Bostonians' only local news source was the Evening Christian Science Monitor. The Monitor mailers are union members but operate under a separate contract.

SINGER'S JEWELS STOLEN

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Aug. 10 (UP)—One of the singing McGuire Sisters, Phyllis, reported last night that $10,000 in jewels had been stolen from her hotel room.

Miss McGuire said the 10 items missing included a five carat diamond necklace and earring set valued at $6000. She said the theft occured between Thursday and Friday nights. Police said there was no sign of forced entry in her room.

CONFEREES AGREE ON PUBLIC WORKS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee reached agreement last night on a compromise public works appropriations bill for the fiscal year which started July 1.

The money total for the construction of Army Engineer and Reclamation Bureau water projects was not available immediately, but Senator Allen J. Ellender (Dem.), Louisiana, said that for the most part the amounts voted by the Senate for individual projects were accepted.

The Senate passed the bill only Thursday, voting a total of $884,151,323. This was an increase of $69,338,300 over the amount approved earlier by the House.

President Eisenhower recommended $867,453,000.

In passing the bill the Senate made no changes in the recommendations of its Appropriations Committee except to adopt an amendment to earmark $500,000 for planning the proposed Bruces Eddy dam on the Clearwater river in Idaho.

Projects and amounts included in the bill were:

Cape Girardeau, $1,300,000; Missouri river (Kansas City to mouth), $5,000,000.

East St. Louis and vicinity, $800,000; Illinois waterway, $6,000,000; Wood River drainage and levee district, $550,000.

The conference agreed on $2,750,000 for Missouri river basin investigations instead of the $3,000,000 voted by the Senate.

DEMOCRATS SAY BENSON RAN OUT ON REA INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Senate Democrats last night accused Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson of running out on a request that he appear for questioning about a reported change in loan policies of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Dem.), Minnesota, told the Senate repeated efforts had been made by a Senate Government Operations subcommittee, of which he is chairman, to get Benson "back to Washington to testify."

Humphrey said he wanted to clear up charges that authority over the making of major REA loans has been taken away from REA Administrator David A. Hamil and shifted into the Department of Agriculture.

Humphrey said earlier in the week the charge had been made that the loans actually are passed on by Wesley d'Ewart, former Republican representative from Montana, an official in the department, whom he called "a public power foe."

6 ARE KILLED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE ON CALIFORNIA HILL

LIVERMORE, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—An automobile speeding down a long hill yesterday crashed head on into a car going up, killing six persons.

The dead included four of the five occupants of the car going uphill. They were Lt. Col. Clarence E. Fischer, formerly of San Antonio, Tex., a squadron commander at Castle Air Force Base, Merced, Calif.; his wife, a baby daughter and a 10-year-old son. 9-year-old daughter was in a hospital with head and internal injuries.

Dead in the other car were Paul F. Lockett, Hayward, Calif., a shipyard guard, and his wife, Pauline, 28. Highway patrolman Henry Watchborn said the Lockett car crossed the center line and crashed into the Fischer car on U.S. Highway 50 eight miles east of here.

JAPAN OBTAINS $7,000,000 LOAN FROM WORLD BANK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The World Bank yesterday lent Japan the equivalent of $7,000,000 to help a multipurpose irrigation and power project in the Aichi region of central Japan.

The project is expected to increase the production of Japan's vital food crops by about 200,000 tons a year as well as supplying drinking water and additional power for industry in three cities including Nagoya, the third most important industrial city.

The bank announced that the First National City Bank of New York is participating in the loans to the extent of $721,000.

Herbert Hoover, 83 Today, Calls War, Inflation Chief Dangers

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, 83 years old today, sees two clouds on the horizon—"the cloud of possible war and the cloud of possible inflation."

He refused to prophesy on either at a news conference yesterday in his hotel suite.

Puffing a pipe, Hoover appeared hale and hearty. Reporters who have seen him frequently since he left the White House almost 25 years ago said they had not seen him looking so well in many years.

On war, Hoover said "the West has grown definitely stronger, but military values are changing. You can evaluate ground armies and navies, but you can't evaluate where nuclear weapons are concerned."

View on Inflation.

"Especially when we know nothing about our major enemy and that's Russia," he added.

Hoover said he views the current spurt of inflation as "very dangerous." But he commented: "The Administration, the Federal Reserve and various financial agencies of the government are unquestionably bringing the thing to check."

Hoover said his greatest hope for the world was for peace. . . . "Everything that makes for peace is the overriding need right now."

The man who was President from 1929 to 1933 asailed juvenile delinquency as a "monstrous growth" along with the increase in crime in general.

He said teen-age crime is increasing faster than the teenagers themselves.

He blamed slums, broken homes, lack of moral and religious training, "and the constant romance of crime by the opinion-making media."

Urges Joint Action.

He suggested that communities form committees to survey the local crime scene, discourage prison officials from releasing hardened criminals and encourage "the mass agencies" to review periodically the effects of their activites on growing minds.

Hoover said he still rises at 6:30 for breakfast and works from 7:30 to lunch. "I rest after lunch because that's the doctor's orders," he grumbled.

He's working on about six books. The first two or three will deal with famine and disaster relief.

He refused to comment on national politics and was a bit huffy when newsmen asked for his ideas on the threatened 1958 battle for the Republican nomination for Governor of California between Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Senator William F. Knowland.

"I'm not going down that road," Hoover snapped. "You go down that road and you wind up in a mud hole."

1944 TALK BY POPE ON HUNGARIAN SAINT PUBLISHED

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 10 (AP) — A speech in praise of Hungary's St. Margaret—prepared by Pope Pius XII some 14 years ago to deliver to a Hungarian pilgrimage — was published today by L'Osservatore Romano.

World War II prevented the Hungarian pilgrimage from coming to Rome in 1944.

The Vatican newspaper said the Pope's address was published today because of the forthcoming Roman Catholic feast on Aug. 15 of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven—a feast that has been especially observed in Hungary.

L'Osservatore also said that the publication was made in response to the request of Hungarian Catholics, many of whom "have been compelled to find in many other countries of the world the religious liberty that is denied in their fatherland."

The speech hailed St. Margaret as a person of "singularly pious life."

She was the daughter of King Beli I of Hungary and Marie Laskaris. Born in 1242, she died Jan. 18, 1271. Her parents had vowed when Hungary was liberated from the Tatars that their next child should be dedicated to religion. Accordingly, Margaret, in 1245, entered the Dominican convent of Veszprem. She took the vestments of the Dominican order when she was only four.

Rights Bill

to House Republican leader Martin that the Senate's version would require jury trials in federal appeals courts and the Supreme Court.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (Dem.), New York, of the House Judiciary Committee, author of the compromise, predicted Republicans will capitulate and accept it.

The House is in recess until Tuesday.

Rayburn served notice on the Eisenhower Administration yesterday that if Republicans want civil rights legislation "they can get it now" by taking the Senate bill with the jury trial amendment.

While both Republican and Democratic strategy took shape, the big question mark continued to be the Rules Committee.

Eight of the committee's 12 members are Democrats. Four are Republicans.

The eight Democrats are divided equally between southerners who don't want any bill, and northerners who want a strong bill.

The balance of power appeared to rest with the four Republican members.

ADMITS STABBING HUSBAND, HAD BLAMED BABY FOR IT

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP)—A teen-age wife admitted yesterday that it was she, and not their 22-month-old son, that stabbed and seriously wounded her husband Thursday.

Police said Irene Mary Norris, 19, admitted the stabbing, blaming it on a domestic quarrel. Her husband, Thomas, 20, also made a statement confirming his wife's story, Police said. No charges were filed in the case.

Norris, who suffered a three-inch wound near the heart, was reported in serious condition at Pottsville hospital. The young couple first told police that the baby stabbed his father while they played on the sofa in the family home at nearby New Philadelphia. State police said after a preliminary investigation that the story appeared to be true.

Mountain Guide Killed.

BANK OF FRANCE TIGHTENS CREDIT TO CURB INFLATION

PARIS, Aug. 10 (UP)—The Bank of France tightened up on credit today in a further move to fight inflation.

The bank ordered a 10 per cent reduction in the amount of rediscount credit it allows banks on short-term notes and other forms of commercial paper.

The move, the second such rediscount credit reduction ordered by the bank this summer, is designed to combat inflation by forcing banks to boost their interest rates on loans to corporations.

The action was in line with Finance Minister Felix Gaillard's "austerity" program to control inflation and reduce spending at home.

Gaillard said yesterday he would seek a 20 per cent increase in France's exports in order to reduce the deficit of its balance-of-payment situation and thus strengthen the value of the franc.

BRITISH NAVY DROPS CHECK ON TWO POLISH SUBMARINES

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—An Admiralty spokesman said today the British navy was no longer keeping track of two Polish submarines last reported heading out into the stormy North sea.

"The last we saw of them," the spokesman said, "they were heading straight out and were about 50 miles due east of Newcastle."

The navy tailed the submarines with minesweepers yesterday after they edged close to the Scottish coast, but outside the three-mile limit.

Speculation had arisen here that crewmen of the two submarines might want to seek asylum in Britain. The Admiralty came to the conclusion, however, that the submarines were merely carrying out training maneuvers.

MADRID, Aug. 10 (AP) — Marines of the United States Mediterreanean fleet are to invade the south cost of Spain Aug. 20 in an amphibious demonstration for key Spanish naval and military officers.

The exercise will be held near Almeria and will be supported by planes from the carriers Franklin D. Roosevelt and Randolph and by simulated gunfire from the heavy cruisers Newport News and Salem.

Capt. F. W. Laing, United States Navy, will command the amphibious task force and Lt. Col. R. F. Delamar the 1800 Marines participating in the operation.

KISHI AGREES TO CONVENE SESSION OF JAPANESE DIET

TOKYO, Aug. 10 (UP)—Premier Kishi agreed today to convene a special session of the Diet (parliament) on Nov. 1.

Party Secretary-General Shojiro Kawshima told newsmen after a meeting with the Premier that the Diet will meet Nov. 1 for a special session lasting five days to a week."

The opposition Socialists have been pressing for a special session ever since Kishi made a sweeping reorganization last month of the Cabinet he inherited from his predecessor, Tanzan Ishibashi.

IRISH TERRORISTS ATTACK TWO POSTS NEAR BORDER

BELFAST, Aug. 10 (UP) — Terrorists launched two anti-British attacks in Northern Ireland early today, charging a police station at Swateragh with machine guns and blowing up a customs post 60 miles to the south.

Police at Swateragh said the attackers were driven off without casualty after they had shattered the station windows with machine-gun bullets.

The custom post on the border with the Irish Republic was reported blown up about an hour before the attack on the police station.

Anti-Reds Clash in Tokyo.

TOKYO, Aug. 10 (UP) — Ultra-nationalists demonstrating against what they called Russia's "sneak attack" on Japan 12 years ago clashed with police in front of the Soviet embassy here today. The editor of an anti-Communist newspaper was arrested for resisting police. Russia declared war on Japan Aug. 9, 1945. An agreement ending the war formally was signed last October.

SEC ENDS LOBBY FEE INQUIRY INTO UNION ELECTRIC

By JAMES DEAKIN
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—The Securities and Exchange Commission announced yesterday it has discontinued its extensive investigation into Union Electric Co.'s payment of a $35,000 lobbying fee, which eventually wound up in the secret "brown envelope" account of Orville E. Hodge.

The commission said it has ended the inquiry into payment of the money to J. Roy Browning, Chicago attorney and an associate of Hodge, ousted Illinois auditor who is now serving a 12-to-15-year prison term for thefts from the state.

The SEC said it had referred the evidence uncovered in its investigation to the Department of Justice, and the department had reported "that the facts developed did not come within reach of the Holding Company Act."

An SEC spokesman said the investigation would be reopened if any new evidence was forthcoming to warrant further inquiry. "Otherwise, the case is closed so far as we are concerned," he added.

The commission's statement made it clear that the failure of a grand jury in Springfield, Ill., to return any indictments in the Union Electric case had been a strong factor in the SEC's decision to drop its inquiry.

Key Question.

Commission employes working on the case had told the Post-Dispatch previously that, in determining whether Union Electric violated any SEC regulation, the principal question had become:

Did the St. Louis utility know that the money it paid Browning, ostensibly to lobby for a bill in the Illinois Legislature, would go to Hodge?

Referring to its 10-month inquiry, the SEC statement said: "During the course of the commission's investigation, some 40 individuals were interviewed and considerable research involving the inspection of documents and other material was undertaken:

"The commission referred the evidence which its investigation disclosed to the Department of Justice. The department concluded that the facts developed did not come within the reach of the Holding Company Act.

"On May 24, 1957, the grand jury before which this inquiry was conducted was discharged. It did not vote any indictments. In view of the foregoing, the commission has discontinued its investigation."

Other Issues Not Mentioned.

The SEC statement made no mention of the Commission's findings on the question of whether Union Electric Co. had violated regulations promulgated by the SEC under authority of the Holding Company Act. These regulations have the same force of law as the act.

One of the regulations involved requires a utility holding company, in its annual report to the SEC, to furnish a list of any "expenditures, disbursements or payments directly or indirectly . . . to or for the account of any political party, committee or agency thereof, candidate for public office, holder of public office. . ."

In its annual report for 1955, the year involved, Union Electric stated it had made no such contributions or payments, although Hodge was a "holder of public office" when the fee was paid to Browning.

'Private Investigation.'

In its statement, the commission said it began "a private investigation" in November 1956 "to determine whether Union Electric Co. of St. Louis and certain of its officers and employes had violated provisions" of the Holding Company Act.

The SEC added that it had co-operated with the office of United States Attorney John B. Stoddart of Springfield in the investigation.

On the subject of whether Union Electric had advance knowledge that Hodge would get the $35,000, Stoddart has said: "Only the most naive person could believe that Union Electric did not know that Hodge would end up with some of Browning's fee."

He told reporters that the grand jury had not been able to establish legally that Hodge was a candidate for public office when the fee was paid.

Necessary to Show Violation.

This showing was necessary to prove a violation of the Holding Company Act which prohibits contributions to candidates for public offices and to political parties. The act itself says nothing about "holders of public office."

Reporting the federal grand jury's findings last May 24, Stoddart said the question of whether Union Electric violated SEC regulations was the province of the commission.

Although Stoddart said Union Electric was guilty of "transactions of questionable legitimacy," the grand jury's refusal to return an indictment under the Holding Company Act meant that the matter was thrown back to the SEC and the Justice Department.

FAROUK'S DAUGHTER IS SAID TO HAVE REJECTED HUSSEIN

CAIRO, Aug. 10 (UP)—The weekly Akhber El Yom reported today that Egypt's ex-Princess Ferial has rejected a proposal of marriage from Jordan's King Hussein, who is estranged from his wife Dina.

Akhbar said Hussein's mother, Queen Zein, persuaded him to propose to Ferial to "spite Egypt." The weekly said also that Zein was "instrumental" in estranging her son from his first wife.

BUILT FOR SPEED

Rated as the world's fastest boat, Donald Campbell's Bluebird presents bug-like appearance as it sits in Lake Canandaigua, N.Y., where Campbell hopes to set a new speed record. The craft, powered by a jet turbine engine, has been put through a series of test runs recently but Campbell has been unable to find the right combination of placid water and still air needed for an all-out attempt to beat his record of 225.63 miles an hour. Bar projecting from float at left is the air speed indicator.

RISE IN STEEL PRICE LAID TO HIGH WAGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—Robert C. Tyson, chairman of United States Steel Corp.'s finance committee, said today the "unremitting and rapid rise" in wages is the "big basic cost fact" that made recent steel price increases necessary.

Tyson told the Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly subcommittee that inflation is the basic evil in the high price picture.

Once inflation has started, he said, "the alternatives are to try to keep productive America functioning with cost-covering price increases, or to head it toward the insolvency that no one really wants."

Tyson, appearing with board Chairman Roger M. Blough, defended United States Steel's recent $6-a-ton price boost and rejected arguments that the company's profits are big enough to absorb cost increases.

"The records of United States Steel cumulatively and convincingly show that as long as nation-wide inflation continues at rates exceeding the increases in productivity, price inflation will be compelled," Tyson said.

He said "by squeezing out profits there could be a brief lull, but prices thereafter would have to reflect directly the rising costs."

In the meantime, Tyson said, such squeezing out of profits, if adopted and enforced as a national policy for industry in general, would obviously bring about great unemployment.

Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (Dem.), Wyoming, asked Blough, in light of Tyson's remarks, if "you are suggesting that wages should be pushed back."

Blough said he was making no such suggestion. But he said steadily increasing wages are the biggest factor in the company's increased costs.

Tyson said a corporation such United States Steel has only three means of obtaining new money for development.

One is by reinvesting income, but that is only possible when there is a profit.

The same holds true for borrowing, the second method, Tyson said, and the third method—sale of stock—is only possible when the company shows a promising profit.

PLAYER IS DEALT PERFECT BRIDGE HAND OF 13 CLUBS

PALO ALTO, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—Dr. Phillip V. Ketchum says he has waited 50 years to see a perfect bridge hand. He saw one Thursday—13 clubs—and in his own hand.

The retired Cheyenne, Wyo., physician was dealt the hand in a game at the Palo Alto Lawn Bowling Club. He bid the maximum seven clubs, was doubled and redoubled, laid down his hand and made a total of 1760 points.

Ketchum's partner, Roger Stienstra of Palo Alto, dealt the perfect hand, calculated to be well more than a billlion to one shot. The opposing players were George Orsby, a retired school official from Mead, Wash., and George Bereny, a retired Menlo Park (Calif.) salesman.

STAN LAUREL NOT ALLOWED TO ATTEND HARDY'S FUNERAL

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—Oliver Hardy was buried yesterday, but Stan Laurel, his sidekick in more than 200 films, wasn't allowed to attend the funeral.

The ailing Laurel, 67, suffered a stroke two years ago, and his doctor ordered him to stay home.

Hardy, died Wednesday. He had suffered a stroke nearly a year ago and never fully recovered.

HOFFA'S AUTO IS INVOLVED IN THREE-CAR COLLISION

PONTIAC, Mich., Aug. 10 (AP)—Midwest Teamster boss James R. Hoffa was involved in a three-automobile accident near here yesterday. There were no injuries and this time Hoffa had his driving license.

Hoffa was fined $27 for speeding and failing to produce a driver's license July 27 by Justice of the Peace Helmar G. Stanaback in nearby Orion township. The accident yesterday in Pontiac was investigated by Oakland county Deputy Sheriff James Stites, who gave Hoffa the speeding ticket two weeks ago. No charges were filed yesterday.

Stites said Hoffa's car rammed into the rear of an automobile that had just hit the rear of third car. The accident occurred at 7:45 a.m. Hoffa was driving a 1956 Cadillac registered in the name of Detroit Teamster Local 299. Thursday night Hoffa was guest of honor at a Detroit reception held to boost his candidacy for president of the International Teamster Union.

The Bridge Deck

By Florence Osborn

"THE first annual mixed pair tournament at the Barclay Bridge Club gave my husband and me a seldom-experienced bridge thrill—a sacrifice seven-bid, doubled, which came in," writes Mrs. Philip Gross, of Beechhurst, in presenting today's hand.

Both sides vulnerable.

WEST	NORTH	EAST
	♠AQ9864 ♥None ♦A7 ♣109763
♠J102 ♥QJ1063 ♦J864 ♣K		♠K75 ♥AK9854 ♦KQ103 ♣None
	SOUTH Mrs. Gross ♠3 ♥72 ♦952 ♣AQJ8542

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1♥	2♣	2♥	2♠
3♥	Pass	4♥	5♣
6♥	Pass	Pass	7♣
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

"I sat South," Mrs. Gross writes, "and my right-hand opponent, a very fine player, had bid up to six hearts, which he cannot make. My husband then bid seven clubs as a sacrifice, and I made it. I am sure we never would have bid to seven without the spur of the six-heart bid."

West opened a low diamond against the club grand slam and Mrs. Gross won in dummy with the ace and led a club to the ace, drawing West's king. She played a spade to the ace, trumped a low spade, ruffed a heart in dummy and trumped another low spade, dropping the king.

Declarer then ruffed her last heart in dummy and discarded two diamonds on the long spades, making the seven-club contract.

Against six hearts by East, South opens the three of spades and North takes the ace and returns the unnecessarily high queen, telling partner to lead the next higher-ranking of the two remaining side suits. South ruffs the second spade and puts North in with the diamond ace for another spade ruff—down three.

NORTH
♠63
♥KQ8
♦Q642
♣8753
SOUTH
♠K72
♥AJ1065
♦AJ
♣AK6

You are declarer at four hearts and West opens a low diamond, which you win with the jack. How do you play?

Declarer does not enter dummy with a trump in order to lead a spade toward the king, for this gives the defense a chance to remove dummy's two remaining trumps before South can gain a spade ruff. Declarer may then lose three spades and a club for down one.

As declarer can afford to lose two spade tricks, he should keep the timing on the hand by immediately leading a low spade from his hand at trick two. Now he can ruff his third spade in dummy to make game.

HENRY—By Carl Anderson

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

THE question of whether the lower types of animals suffer pain has come up again, this time in a letter from J. J. Krempasky. He wrote:

"In your column last March you took up the question of whether the lower forms of animal life, such as insects and fish, suffer pain.

"You may be interested in an observation I made last summer. My cat was eating a garter snake, from the tail up. This aroused my curiosity, and I went closer, to see whether the snake was alive. It bit at a stick which I placed in front of it, but made no attempt to fight the cat. It seemed to be satisfied to be eaten alive!

"I never thought of asking myself the simple question, 'Does the snake have any pain?' until after I read what you had to say on the subject. It seems to me that since it failed to defend itself, the snake could hardly have felt any pain."

* * *

IT IS DIFFICULT to say how much, or how little, pain one of the lower animals may suffer. If an animal tries to escape from biting or scratching, some pain is indicated.

Have I told you about the day I saw a conger eel which had been speared by a college student during a vacation in Florida? This eel is regarded as "wicked" because it harms various kinds of fish. Nevertheless I felt pity when I saw the conger eel turn its head and bite at the prongs of the spear.

* * *

FISH KNOW the feeling of pain, but seem to suffer very little in comparison with higher forms of animal life. Reptiles (which include the snakes) are in a middle position in regard to suffering pain.
